

CIVIL WAR IN CHINA IN 24 HOURS IS PREDICTED; SPORADIC GUN FIRE ALREADY HEARD ON FRONT

Mrs. Felton Attacks Walker on Klan Issue

KLAN INFLUENCE SEEN IN SUPPORT OF JUDGE HOWARD

Former Woman Senator's
Card Based on Walker's Letter on Judgeship to Atlanta Woman.

DECLARES GOVERNOR IS NOT "FREE AGENT"

"It Is Surprising Chief Executive Should Be Forced To Stultify Himself," She Says.

Cautiously attacking Governor Clifford Walker for "stultifying himself," Mrs. Rebecca Latimer Felton has addressed an open letter to the women voters of Fulton county, taking the chief executive of the state to task for his action in sending out personal letters to the women voters of Fulton county, asking them to vote for Judge G. H. Howard for judge of the superior court.

Judge Howard was appointed to fill out an unexpired term by Governor Walker and is now seeking reelection to the place at the hands of the voters.
He is opposed for the Fulton county judgeship by Judge L. F. McClelland, of the municipal court of Atlanta.

Says Governor Is Influenced.

In her card Mrs. Felton, of Cartersville, first and only woman member of the United States senate, indicates her belief that Governor Walker was influenced in sending out this letter by the Ku Klux Klan. She says that, while she does not know that he is a Klansman, "somebody is making him do this extraordinary thing," and adds,
"I suppose he hangs up his 'hood and nightie' in the capitol of Georgia."

Governor Walker, in his letter, expressly states that he is writing in his personal capacity. He asks women voters of Fulton to support Judge Howard on the ground that the judge has made a good record in office and should be given a full term.

When the card of Mrs. Felton was brought to the attention of Governor Walker on Tuesday afternoon he declined to make any statement, but said that his letter, which is quoted by Mrs. Felton, spoke for itself.

Mentions McAdoo's Defeat.

Mrs. Felton, commenting on the governor's letter in her card, addressed to the women voters of Fulton county, mentions the defeat of William

GEORGIAN IS KILLED AS TRAIN HITS AUTO

Crossing When Train
Rams Truck.

Tennille, Ga., September 2.— (Special).—G. H. Moore was killed almost instantly about noon today on a grade crossing at Tennille by a Central of Georgia passenger train running from Savannah to Atlanta.

Moore was driving a truck and was looking in an opposite direction from that of the train when the engine crashed into the truck, throwing Moore about 20 feet in the air, witnesses said. He landed on the front of the engine and died within a few minutes without regaining consciousness.

He is survived by his widow and several children.
This is second fatal accident which has occurred at this crossing in the past few years. The place is known as "Death Crossing."
No passengers were injured.
Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

American Fliers Make Short Hop To Hawkes Bay

Hawkes Bay, Newfoundland, September 2.—The American world fliers tonight are one step farther in their task of girdling the world.
The planes of Lieutenant Lowell H.
Smith and Lieutenant Erik Nelson are resting on the waters of Hawkes Bay, to which they flew today from Ice Tickle, Labrador.

Starting from Ice Tickle in good flying weather, the American airmen drove their planes steadily forward under fine conditions until over Belle Isle Straits and along the coast of Newfoundland, where they were met.

TEXAS DEMOCRATS DENOUNCE K. K. K. IN BITTER TERMS

Hooded Order Condemned as "Un-Democratic, Anti-Christian and Un- American Organization.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Capitol, Austin, Texas, September
2.—Proclaiming no quarter for the Ku Klux Klan, framing a platform which denounced the Klan and declared for strict economy in government and according complete recognition of Mrs.
Miriam A. Ferguson as the democratic nominee for governor, the state democratic convention went through vicious sessions here today with the Ferguson element in absolute and undeniable control. As night fell on the capitol, the meeting was still continuing with the permanent organization effected only a short time before by election of Joseph Weldon Bailey, former United States senator, as chairman, and Senator Joe Burckett, of Eastland, as secretary.

The day was crowded with bitter denunciation of the Klan and its methods with heated oratory, climaxed by a masterful appeal of Senator Bailey for peace and marked by warm acclamation for Mrs. Ferguson and her husband, James E. Ferguson, who, with their daughters, sat on the speakers' platform throughout the day.

Out Klan Delegations.

To be certain that the convention would be 100 per cent anti-Klan, all Klan delegations were ousted and every attempt of the Klan delegates to place their friends on important committees was decisively defeated by election of substitute committeesmen favorable to the convention majority. In this manner committee members favorable to the anti-Klan element from the Fourth district, composed of Orange, Jefferson, Liberty and Hardin counties, and from the Thirtieth were seated. A bitter fight over the Dallas

ASKS KEY TO GIVE- SCHOOL SOLUTION

Mayor Sims Invites Opponent To Tell How He Would Have Met Financial Emergency.

Charges by former Mayor Key that Mayor Sims' activity in negotiating a $350,000 loan for schools was a "political stall" were answered by the mayor Tuesday night with a demand to know how Mr. Key would have met the school emergency had he been mayor.

The "political stall" charge was hurled by the former mayor, who now is opposing Mayor Sims for reelection, at a political rally in Maddox Park Monday. Key had termed the loan a "stall to square the mayor with friends of the schools and carry favor for the Georgia Railway and Power company."

Both candidates withdrew from the stump for the day Tuesday, outdoor political rallies at which they had been scheduled to speak having been cancelled.

LABOR DELEGATION TO HEAR COOLIDGE WAS PAID, CHARGE

Washington Stirred by Report G. O. P. Committee Defrayed Expenses of 115 Men.

ALL NEWS TO HIM, BUTLER DECLARES

Crowd Was Mobilized by T. V. O'Connor, Chairman of Shipping Board, To Hear President Speak.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, September 2.—Considerable stir has been caused here by the charge, now officially denied, that the republican national committee paid the traveling and hotel expenses of the 115 labor men who called on President Coolidge on Labor day.

The matter was brought to the attention of William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee, who declared his organization had not authorized any expenditure for this purpose, and that he had not known of the labor pilgrimage until he read of it in the newspapers.

The delegation was mobilized by T.
V. O'Connor, chairman of the U. S. shipping board and formerly president of the Longshoremen's union. He was the chief labor leader active in the Harding campaign of four years ago, and is active in the republican cause again this year. No secret was made of the fact that O'Connor gathered up the delegation, but no one in republican circles would admit that O'Connor or the national committee had financed the affair.

Men Paid for Time.

The account published in The Baltimore Sun, democratic newspaper, stated the men were even reimbursed for the working time lost by the trip to Washington.

Some union officials here said they had never heard of many listed in the labor delegation. One was found to be an inspector on the interstate commerce commission through his working card.

Butler was asked for the facts at a conference of newspaper correspondents.

BOYKIN TO FIGHT SMITH'S RELEASE

Suspect in Million-Dollar
Bunco Operations Here
Now Seeking Freedom
Under $10,000 Bond.

A finish fight to prevent the release on bail of W. Clyde Smith, arrested last Friday in Cleveland in connection with operation of Atlanta's million-dollar bunco ring, was opened Tuesday night after news dispatches received here indicated that the man would be released under $10,000 bond unless Cleveland police were notified by Atlanta authorities that he was wanted on other than federal charges.

In a message to the Cleveland chief of police, Solicitor General John
A. Boykin stated that Smith was wanted in Atlanta on at least a dozen indictments on charges implicating him in the theft of approximately $200,000. Smith, escaped from Chris-tension, S. C., some time ago when federal agents followed his arrest last week. That move eliminated the necessity to obtain extradition papers, and, it was thought, would result in his being brought here immediately.

However, when told by The Constitution of the move to free Smith on bail, Mr. Boykin immediately set machinery in motion to keep him in jail until W. A. Riley, county officer, who will leave Atlanta this morning, arrives in Cleveland with papers presented him to bring Smith to Atlanta.

The Chinese War Situation in Brief

The key-points in the ominous Chinese situation are shown by the map. Troops of Kiangsu and Chekiang provinces are drawn up in battle formation about Shanghai (1); refugees are pouring into Shanghai from Nanking and Hangchow (2); and the volunteer defense corps of the foreign colony in Shanghai, equipped (as shown above) with armored cars, is preparing to defend the foreign quarter from attack; American and British warships from Weihai-Nei and Chefoo (3) are prepared to protect foreign interests; General Chang-Tso-Ling, war lord of Manchuria (4), is ready to attack the Peking government; General Wa Pei Fu, of Peking (5), seeking to master all China, is moving to rush the rebel province of Chekiang, where General Lu Yung Hsing (shown above) is supreme, to clear the way for war on the South China government of Canton.

CITY AUDITORIUM SPACE IS DOUBLED AT $83,000 COST

Council and Mayor Agree on Plan To Purchase Old Massell Produce Market Property.

Doubling of floor space at the city auditorium-armory after January 1 by purchase of the old Massell produce market adjoining it, was approved by Mayor Walter Sims Tuesday after favorable action by city council and the aldermanic board Monday.

The resolution signed Tuesday is in the nature of an acceptance of an offer by the Atlanta Hotel Men's association to make a first payment of $25,000 to obtain the building and ob-ligating the city to make five other annual payments of about $12,000, including 6 per cent interest, and later to repay the hotel men for the initial investment, running the total cost to $83,000 plus 6 per cent interest over the five-year period.

The Massell lots and building, practically as large in expanse as the present auditorium, are to be used for show rooms and sample rooms for commercial conventions that are held in Atlanta. The building will be connected with the present auditorium by a covered walkway.

Cool Spell Seen By Weather Man Next Few Days

Rain and Mercury Fell Fast
Tuesday—Long Drouth
Is Broken.

The rain and mercury fell fast Tuesday night, and according to a late prediction from the office of the local weather bureau, Atlanta is due to awake shivering this morning, with the mercury clinging the around 62-degree mark. The torrid days are gone, and a cool wave, ushered in Tuesday from the northwest, is expected to remain for a few days, weather officials stated.

For two weeks the mercury has hovered around the 90-degree position, and not until Monday was the long drouth broken. With rains Monday and Tuesday the mercury began its drop. Early Tuesday night the temperature ranged around 75 degrees, and cool winds and steady rains indicated the accuracy of the weather forecast for Wednesday.

Rain is expected in Atlanta today,
according to the local forecaster.
Washington predicts fair weather in north Georgia, with cooler and thunderstorms in the southern part of the state.

Atlanta's precipitation Tuesday was

BATTLE IN MAINE MONDAY STRICTLY KLAN, ANTI-KLAN

Republican Candidate for Governor Actively Backed by Klan—Democratic Nominee Is Anti-Klan.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

Washington, September 2.—If democratic candidate Pantagall defeats republican candidate Brewster in the Maine election next Monday, it will be, first of all, a direct defeat of the Klan through the agency of the democratic party. Second, it will be a blow to the Klan in politics quite as severe as its Texas defeat. Third, it will raise most pointedly the question whether the Klan is an asset to the party on whom it confers its unso-lited benedictions.

In Maine, that party is the republicans. If there were no Klan issue involved, there would be no speculation about, and no possibility of Maine going democratic. The fact is that now, within a week preceding the election, there is such speculation and such a possibility. The inference seems plain that the Klan is a liability, not an asset to the republicans in Maine. If the republicans lose, the deduction will be that the Klan is a liability and not an asset to whatever party it lines up with in the various states.

Fight Is Anti-Klan.

There is a striking aspect of the democratic management of this campaign in Maine. It is essentially an anti-Klan fight.

WETTEST STREET IN NEW ORLEANS RAIDED BY COPS

New Orleans, September 2.—The police, who for more than a month have been conducting raids night and day on liquor sellers, lottery shops and other individuals and institutions beyond the pale of the law, adopted a new method today when they mopped up Exchange Alley, a thoroughfare known to virtually every person who visited New Orleans in the pre-Volsstead era.

The "alley" parallels Royal street, one block to the east, and runs from Canal to St. Louis street. Sounds of police suddenly appeared at the end of the "thoroughfare" and refused to let anyone leave or enter it while the raiding squad was at work. The raid netted a considerable quantity of restless, whisky and several prisoners.

FURTHER TROUBLE ANTICIPATED TODAY IN BLOODY HERRIN

ors of Hooded Order.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Herrin, Ill., September 2.—Wil-lamson county tonight is guarding against a possible resumption of hostilities. Tomorrow morning the sworn enemies—the Ku Klux Klansmen and anti-Klansmen—will face each other in the Herrin city hall.

The occasion will be the coroner's inquest of the shooting affray here Saturday noon, in which six men were killed and several wounded.

Sheriff George Galligan said he and his witnesses would be on hand from Marion, headquarters of the sheriff and the anti-Klansmen.

Going to Get Automobile.

"We will come armed with machine guns if necessary," he said, "and after the inquest, we will go to the Smith garage and get the automobile
we went after Saturday," he added.

State's Attorney Delos Duty said
he would not be present.

"If the coroner's verdict is adverse to the Klansmen, they would say I lent my official position to influence the jurors," Mr. Duty said. "For that reason, I think it best that I stay away."

Members of both factions as well as townspeople, who declare themselves neutral, are frankly expressing doubt as to the peaceful conclusion of tomorrow's proceedings. Both sides are armed and both express the fear
"the other side is out gunning for us."

Klansmen Skeptical.

DOUBLE SESSIONS AT HIGH SCHOOLS

Temporary Arrangement Made Necessary by Delay in Building Portable Class Rooms.

Double sessions both at the new Henry Grady high school for boys and at the Bass Junior High school will be inaugurated during the first two weeks of school, which opens next Monday, because of delay in building portable class room units needed to supplement class rooms in the new bond issue buildings.

Acting Superintendent Hunter announced Tuesday that Boys' High school students would attend classes, beginning Monday, from 8 to 12 and that Tech High students would attend classes from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m.

At Bass Junior High school, eighth and ninth graders will attend classes from 8 to 12 and seventh graders from 12:30 to 4:30.

Mr. Hunter said that delay by the county commissioners in grading the lots at the two schools, which the county is doing without cost to the city or the board of education, forced delay in beginning of work on building the portable units.

More than 1,100 Atlanta school teachers reported to their buildings Tuesday morning to receive instructions and assignments for the year's work from their principals and superintendents, beginning the work preliminary to the actual opening on Monday.

Fulton county teachers are to meet for the same purpose at their respective school buildings Thursday.

22,000 Enrollment Estimate.

Enrollment of 22,000 in the white grammar schools was declared to be a conservative estimate for the opening day by M. E. Coleman, director of census and attendance, in a statement Tuesday. Except in the senior high schools, enrollment will exceed last year's by 10 to 15 per cent.
Examination of pupils who were delinquent last year or who are entering the Atlanta system from other systems for the first time this year will be in progress today and Thursday at the different schools.

Naval Battle in Shanghai

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Shanghai, September 3.—Sporadic firing was heard, but no actual engagement was seen by a messenger who reached Shanghai today from Quinsan.

Traveling through the country where the forces of the rival tuchuns, Gen. Lu Hung Hsiang, of Chekiang, and Gen. Chi Shieh-Yuan, of Kiangsu, are facing each other, the messenger saw many well uniformed soldiers equipped with new guns and many field pieces. Large bodies of northern troops were moving towards Shanghai and the belief exists that extensive fighting is probable today.

Sections of the railway are torn up. The messenger, leaving Quinsan in the evening, traveled all night. He was seized many times and stripped of all his belongings, including his messages. He suffered slight injury at the hands of soldiers, with whom the whole country, he said, is alive.
Chinese Red Cross units from Shanghai are establishing bases near Quin-san and Liuhou.

Shanghai, September 2.—Civil warfare, threatened for a week, is likely to break out on two fronts within 24 hours, it was said in well-informed quarters here tonight.

An official notice issued tonight, suspending indefinitely all passenger and freight traffic on the Shanghai-Nanking railroad, left the entire community in a fever of expectancy, though ignorant of what might be taking place 30 miles from the city.

Foreign war craft in the harbor tonight totaled 20. Five more American destroyers arrived from Chefoo this afternoon, while the French cruiser, Jules Ferry, flagship of the French Asiatic squadron, arrived with Admiral Zorbet aboard.

Hotels Are Filled.

All native hotels are filled to capacity, while the more wealthy Chinese have been actively securing residential quarters in the French and the international concessions.
The Shanghai-Hankow-Ningpo railroad was still open tonight, but was being devoted for the most part to military uses and the movement of refugees, including missionaries into the city. It is estimated that the native population of Shanghai has been increased 100,000.

Out of the mass of conflicting reports seeping into the city, the most definite ones from Nanking, nearly two hours away by rail or river, tell

Labor Will Help Fill 22d Ranks On Defense Day

Indications that approximately 2,000 men, recruited from the ranks of labor, will swell the Twenty-second Infantry to full wartime strength for the National Defense Test day parade on September 12 became evident Tuesday with announcements by labor leaders that everything in their power will be done to guarantee "mustered in" of sufficient labor men to fill the regiment's ranks for the occasion.

Acceptance of the proposal, which was tendered by officials at Fort M. P. Pherson, is evidence of accord existing between organized labor and the regular army in this locality, and is expected to further the feeling of amity between the labor and military elements. As far as is known, Atlanta is the first place in the country where such a proposition has been attempted successfully.

Caraway Favors Plan. In speaking of the plan, W. C. Caraway, past president of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, stated: "I believe it a patriotic duty for members of organized labor to participate in this demonstration in favor of national defense, and intend to do all I can personally to help members of the Twenty-second Infantry fill their ranks for this purpose."

Labor has been selected to fill the ranks in the regular army ranks in order that "recruiting" will not interfere with other civic and social organizations which plan to march in the parade in separate bodies. For that reason, members of organized labor, including the Atlanta Federation of Trades and the railroad brotherhoods have been invited to march, shoulder to shoulder, with men of the regular army.

If the expected number is obtained, two complete battalions will be complete, and, with other companies, will make the Twenty-second Infantry the full war-time strength of 3,000. If labor fails to answer the call, the ranks will be filled by men between the ages of 18 and 45 who belong to no organizations represented in the parade. If more than the required number answer the call, all of course, will be assigned to companies and given places in the parade.

Will Be Given Cards. Every man will be given an identification card, assigning him to a company for the day and will be asked to assemble at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of September 12 at a place to be designated later. Company flags will be displayed in order that officers may be able to locate their units, and an information bureau will be established at Five Points, where non-commissioned officers will receive volunteers and assign them to companies. Officers of the regiment will address labor gatherings at noon on the day of the demonstration, emphasizing them with the aims of National Defense Test Day, and requesting them to march with the regiment.

Employers will be asked to afford officers of the regiment opportunity to explain the plan to workers during the coming week. It was stated by Captain Donovan Yuell, in charge of publicity for the regiment.

PLANS ARE APPROVED BY BUSINESS WOMEN. Adding their indorsement of plans for local celebration of National Defense Test day on September 12, to that of the large number of civic clubs and other organizations which have already given their official approval, the Business and Professional Women's club of Atlanta, at a meeting held August 27, adopted resolutions pledging their full support in making the Atlanta demonstration on that day a success.

Miss Rebecca Sluman was chairman of a special committee named to draft the resolutions, other members of the committee being Miss Helen Douglas and Miss E. J. Buchanan.

Plans Are Progressing. Plans for the great procession which will feature the program of the day are progressing rapidly, according to Fonville McWhorter, chairman of the parade committee. In addition to a large number of military organizations and citizen bodies which will be in the line of march, the parade will be featured by a "tidally decorated float, each one representing some important event in the history of America and the south."

Julian V. Boehm, chairman of the day for Atlanta, is expecting this city's demonstration to outdo that of any other southern city, and he stated Tuesday that performance of the demonstrations was going forward with undiminished success. Plans call for a great patriotic demonstration at Piedmont park, after which the parade will be held on the city streets.

Army Men Programs. According to Colonel R. H. Williams, defense test officer of the fourth army corps area, the United States army will have a large part in the celebration of the day throughout the south. Special programs will be staged by army men in all states included in the area, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Proclamations have been issued by governors of every southern state, officially designating the day, and it is now certain, according to all officials in charge of preparations, that the day will witness one of the greatest patriotic celebrations ever seen in the south.

J. B. Conyers, chairman of a special committee enrolling Atlanta men for the great parade, asks all who wish to march to communicate with him at their earliest opportunity, while Fonville McWhorter is also anxious for every organization which contemplates entering a float in the parade to let him have its entries at the earliest possible date.

Plans Announced Today. Complete program for observance of the day will be announced today at the meeting of the executive committee, headed by Julian V. Boehm, chairman, in the directors' room of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. W. O. Foote, chairman of the committee, will be in charge of the parade.

NATIONAL GUARD HEAD PLANS FOR DEFENSE DAY.

The 123d Infantry, "Atlanta's Own" regiment, Georgia national guard, will mobilize its full strength and assume a leading role on September 13, "National Defense Test Day," according to a statement Tuesday night by Colonel Charles H. Cox, commanding officer.

Detailed plans will be worked out during the present week, it was stated, and Georgia's newest national guard outfit, fresh from a two weeks' encampment on St. Simon Island, will participate in every phase of the war department's plans for mobilization.

Tentative plans were outlined Monday night at a meeting of officers of the regiment, the first to be held since the return Sunday of the regiment from its annual encampment. Many matters of special interest to national guard officers were brought up, and the main business developed was that of plans for the defense test.

The regular drill period got underway Monday night with no more than the usual formalities. The business of checking property used on the encampment and readjustment of other details was disposed of rapidly and officers and men, alike, refreshed from the two weeks on St. Simon Island, "snapped into" it with characteristic vigor which has characterized the regiment since the first day of its existence, little more than five months ago.

Mercury Tumbles At Memphis. Memphis, Tenn., September 2.—A chilly north wind, following in the wake of showers yesterday and last night, sent the mercury tumbling today and Memphis experienced the coolest September 2 in five years.

The lowest temperature was recorded at night, when the thermometer registered 66 degrees, a drop of four degrees in five hours. The temperature rose slightly during the afternoon, but cooled again tonight. Light coats and blankets were popular. A temperature of 55 to 60 degrees tomorrow was forecast tonight by the weather bureau.

FURTHER TROUBLE ANTICIPATED TODAY

and impartial to us, we won't take our witnesses before it," one of the leaders said. "Instead, we will wait for action by the grand jury."

The anti-klanston was not friendly; the also talk of "frame-ups and packed jury-boxes."

A grizzled old miner at the city hall this morning said: "Boys, it should be right interesting."

Immediately after the inquest the last of Saturday's victims will be buried. He is Charles Willard, a Klansman from Williamson and adjoining counties will participate in the funeral ceremonies and the complete Klan ritual will be held.

Rev. P. R. Gifford, pastor of the First Methodist church and an acknowledged klansman, will officiate at the funeral. He said that the klansmen would appear in their regalia.

The county appeared quiet today, with both factions marking time until tomorrow, awaiting what it may bring.

Charges and counter-charges—the battle of words—continued meanwhile. Sheriff Galligan issued another statement, giving what he termed "the true version of the trouble Saturday."

Rev. B. E. Green, chairman of the publicly committee of the Law and Order league, and an acknowledged klansman, also issued a statement in which Galligan and his cohorts were accused of being at fault.

The Ku Klux Klan statement, carried in the Herin Semi-Herald, the Ku Klux Klan paper published in Herin, said in an editorial called: "Williamson County and Its Troubles."

Editorial Blames Officials. "Williamson county is known the world over. Many bad things have been done in the county to drag its name in the dust by a very small minority. However, the large majority of the citizens, in fact 90 per cent of the people are good, law-abiding folks and deplore the fact that the county is in the condition it is now. The citizens have pleaded and begged that the affairs of the county might be carried out differently.

"There is a lawless element here that is in power and they are determined to rule the county or ruin it. The sheriff's office does not try to enforce the law. The state's attorney's office turns loose the law-breakers and tries to prosecute the law-abiding. The Ku Klux Klan is blamed for the troubles of the county. However, every good thing we have in this county is because of the law. The Law and Order league appointed a committee and sent them to Springfield to interview the governor. They stayed three days in the capital trying to get an interview with him, and it is alleged that the state senator from this district prevented them from getting in touch with the governor until the last day. The facts were laid before the governor. His emphatic reply was: 'If you want the law enforced, go back and elect some one that will enforce the law.'

Hired Glenn Young. "The committee came back to Herin, downhearted and reported. A committee was then sent to Washington to confer with Roy J. Haynes. The commissioner listened to the committee and recommended that Mr. Young come to Williamson county. Mr. Young came and began an investigation and reported that he had never seen conditions as bad as they were in this county. The gathering of evidence began and federal agents came to the county, seven in number, and asked that 700 men come to Carbondale and be sworn in as deputies. The good citizens responded. The saloons in the city of Herin were raided simultaneously and some half-hundred prisoners were taken to Benton.

"All were tried in Danville and East Leno. Later, hundreds of thousands of dollars of fines were assessed and many jail sentences were meted. In practically every case, the defendant pleaded guilty. This did not please the county authorities. The enforcement of the law was taken out of their hands. The consequence was that Caesar Gable, a regular constable of Herin, was murdered on the night of February 8."

The editorial then related the

TWO GIRLS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Hot Springs, Ark., September 2.—Two girls were killed and three other persons were seriously injured when the automobile in which they were riding skidded and turned over on the highway four miles from this city late today.

The dead: Minnie Riley, 16, and Bessie Neil, 9.

There were no witnesses to the accident, but authorities who investigated said the automobile apparently turned over twice. The bodies of the victims were free of the wreckage when discovered by a passing motorist.

Miss Riley suffered a scalp wound and died on the way to a hospital. Miss Neil's head was crushed.

The injured, Floyd Ivy, 20; Louis Sayres, 22, and the latter's wife, Mrs. Mildred Sayres, were brought to a local hospital for treatment. Hospital authorities said they probably would recover.

FOUR PRISONERS ESCAPE FLORIDA PRISON FARM

Tallahassee, Fla., Sept. 2.—Four state prisoners escaped from camp and the prison farm over the weekend. The state prison office received notice today that Dean Cheatham, negro life-termer from Alachua county, and Robert Davis, negro, serving a six-year sentence from de Soto county, got away from the state farm, escaped from a road camp near Highlands.

John Stevens, negro, serving five years from Palm Beach county, escaped from a road camp near Melbourne, and George Kyle, negro, also serving a five-year sentence from Alachua county, escaped from a road camp near Highlands.

J. R. Camacho, who escaped from the state farm several weeks ago and was captured at Fredericksburg, Va., has been returned to the farm.

SHERIFF SAYS DEPUTY WAS KILLED FIRST

Marion, Ill., September 2.—By the Associated Press.—Sheriff George Galligan and Deputy Ora Thomas today in an interview declared that members of the Ku Klux Klan of Williamson county, opposed to law enforcement by duly constituted authorities, killed Deputy Sheriff "Bud" Allison Saturday at Herin before a shot was fired by the sheriff or any one of his deputies or anyone else.

Galligan and Thomas admitted they did most of the shooting for the anti-klan forces in the battle at Smith's garage, in which six men were killed and several wounded.

Replying to ministers of Williamson county, who are demanding that he be removed from office, Galligan said that members of the Ku Klux Klan, who would restore law and order in Williamson county if they would cease preaching "murder" and law enforcement by the Ku Klux Klan.

SHERIFF'S RESIGNATION ASKED BY MINISTERS.

Herrin, Ill., September 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Deputy Sheriff J. H. "Bud" Allison and Green Dunning, slain in the shooting here Saturday, were buried today in the city cemetery.

Meanwhile, a deputation from the ministers' association of Williamson county appeared before Sam Stearns, Ill. state senator, at his home at Marion, and asked his influence in obtaining the resignation of Sheriff George Galligan. The board will meet next Tuesday and the committee will appear before it.

Delos Dute, state attorney, also was denounced by the association leaders when he is a signed statement, declared that he, as well as the sheriff, largely was responsible for the present troublesome condition of Williamson county.

"There can be no peace until George Galligan leaves," they said. The committee told Chairman Stearns if Galligan would not resign, they would ask Governor Lee Small to depose him.

Sheriff Galligan referred to the move as "Klan propaganda" and accused the ministers of being Klansmen who were "after" him because he was a bitter opponent of the Klan.

Several ministers readily admitted they were members of the Klan.

postponed on account of bad weather. "Not being able to get my opponent in joint debate where questions can be asked and answers demanded promptly, I am taking the liberty of asking him a few through the press," the mayor's statement began.

"Mr. Key, you make the statement that the school loan was not the proper way to finance the schools for the remainder of the year and you are criticizing me for getting the loan."

"How would you have financed the schools?" Mayor Sims asked. "If you state by an emergency tax, under and by virtue of what authority would you have levied an emergency tax if the legislature had not given authority to levy it?"

"You recall that the committee of the legislature to which the bill asking authority to levy an emergency tax had been referred refused to approve it and two of the local representatives also disapproved the measure."

"If you could not levy an emergency tax, how would you have continued the schools for the remainder of the year?"

"Whom do you blame for the present financial conditions of the schools?"

"The mayor and general council did not under the law have the right to approve or disapprove of the school board's expenditures. How can you blame them?"

"You approved the water rate in your announcement for mayor. How do you approve it and disapprove the loan when they are both to be used for the same purpose?"

"You claim the school loan was a political move. Don't you think it was the only one left after the emergency tax was doomed?"

SOVIET CURBS REBELS IN GEORGIAN REPUBLIC

Tiflis, Georgian Republic, September 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—An attempt to overthrow the soviet regime in Georgia was made last Friday night in several towns and villages of the republic, it is disclosed in an official communique issued by the Georgian council of commissioners.

The communique announces the suppression of a counter-revolutionary rising at Tbilisi in the Kutais district, where rebels seized the town but were dislodged by government forces. The announcement claims that the movement has been fully liquidated and the leaders captured.

GENEVA RECEIVES HERRIOT WARMLY

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Geneva, Sept. 2.—Republican General Herriot, accompanied by his wife and a distinguished visitor, but tonight it flung its reserve aside and gave to Premier Herriot, of France, one of the most enthusiastic greetings in its history. The huge crowds, which had waited patiently for hours, greeted the premier with cries of "Vive Herriot."

Hundreds rushed forward in an attempt to seize his hands and arms and then, inaugurating a serenade, sang insistently, though vainly, to have Herriot come to the hotel balcony and make a speech.

Another development of importance was the redefining of a pact for disarmament and security by a committee of its American authors, who now are in Geneva, and presentation of the new text to M. Herriot. Prof. James T. Shotwell and David Hunter Miller, at the invitation of M. Herriot, went to Lyons and spent two hours explaining the new American draft, which is attracting attention in all the leading delegations.

Interest in American Policy. Not only M. Herriot, but Paul Boncour, the French premier, and other French national defense measures and whom the Americans also saw, showed the greatest interest in the American project, and asked questions touching every angle of the plan. The Americans likewise are in conference with other European statesmen, particularly Benes, of Czechoslovakia, who is impressed with the draft. The Scandinavian states, especially Sweden, are studying the American project, and asked questions touching every angle of the plan.

Professor Shotwell, General Tasker Bliss and Mr. Miller, working at Geneva, have put the first 11 clauses of their original text into a separate declaration, which is called "outlawry of aggressive war." This declaration is cast in the form of a treaty, so that the powers accepting it may be bound to a contract.

Small Nations Seek Security. The smaller nations of Europe, especially the neutrals, are showing their determination to achieve some international pact which they consider will really secure their security when they selected Foreign Minister Duca, of Romania, to preside over the important deliberations of the third assembly commission, which is to probe the entire problem of disarmament and security. There seems here to be a distinct movement, under the apparent leadership of France, to insist that all international deliberations for the limitation of armaments shall be held through the mechanism of the league of nations. If this movement develops it might mean, it is thought, the American government's reported intention to convolve a new disarmament conference, unless it be definitely linked with the league.

For the moment, at least, the movement is entirely confined to the lobby discussions of the delegates. It affirms the belief that the attempt to make the limitation of armaments wholly independent of the establishment of a clear-cut pact of security is gathering force.

Debate on Thursday. Thursday and Friday have been definitely set apart from assembly debate on disarmament and security by Prime Minister MacDonald, of Great Britain, and Premier Herriot, of France, the chief speakers.

Greece came out strongly today for the Armenians when she introduced a resolution providing for the transfer of the Armenian refugees to the Caucasus and the creation there of an Armenian national home.

President Motta opened the second day of the league of nations assembly today at the stroke of noon by announcing the formation of the six commissions of the assembly. They deal with legal and constitutional questions, technical questions, reduction of armaments, budgetary and financial questions, social and general questions and political questions.

Foreign Minister Duca, of Romania, was chosen president of the most important commission—that which will discuss all problems relating to the reduction of armaments, including the pact for mutual assistance.

The presidents of the other commissions are: Sir Littleton Groom, attorney general of Australia, legal and constitutional questions.

Narciso Garay, pan-American foreign secretary, technical organization. Minechiro Adachi, Japanese minister to Belgium, budgetary and financial questions.

Hurlst Zable, of Denmark, social and general questions.

C. J. A. Enckell, Finnish minister to France, technical questions.

Six Vice Presidents. The election of the six vice presidents of the assembly resulted in the choice of the following: Lord Parmoor, England; ex-Premier Sclandra, of Italy; Count Skrynsky, foreign minister to Poland; Francisco J. Uruiza, Colombian minister to Switzerland; Tang Tsai-Fon, Chinese minister to Switzerland.

The election of M. Duca, one of the leaders of the little entente, was the choice of the assembly as strengthening the forces behind France in support of the pact of mutual assistance.

Poland, Czechoslovakia and Rumania have been invited to the present pact should be made stronger so as to afford more effective and prompt military assistance to the smaller nations. Rumania particularly insists upon fortifying the military assistance feature.

With M. Duca presiding, the third assembly commission accepted special attention to the text of the recent Rumanian reply to the proposed pact for mutual assistance.

Reply of Rumania. The document, which was written by M. Duca himself, emphasizes that Rumania is unable to assume the grave responsibility of reducing her armaments unless she is offered really effective guarantees of security and M. Duca says that he finds the draft pact inadequate in this respect.

So long as she exists side by side with nations which disarm and nations which continue to arm the Rumanian foreign minister asserts that it is impossible for true disarmament to be achieved or for serious guarantees to be offered the disarming countries. M. Duca insists that any effective treaty must have a truly general character and he thinks that the possibility of conditional or partial accession deprives the pact of its real efficacy.

Moreover, declares M. Duca, the pact does not define the facts which constitute aggression, fails to provide sufficiently rapid military action in the case of aggression and even permits the council of the league to decide whether military or economic sanctions will be applied against the aggressor state.

Finally, the Rumanian reply declares, authorized denunciation of the treaty by any one of the great powers represented in the council deprives the signatory states which have already reduced their armies of every guarantee and itself renders the pact inadmissible.

If a pact providing more effective guarantees can be discovered, the foreign minister continues, it will have the support of Rumania, which, having achieved national unity, seeks to devote her resources to the work

MRS. R. S. KEELE DIES
AFTER MOTOR CRASH

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 2.—Mrs. Ruby Sloan Keele, wife of C. L. Keele, of Knoxville, and daughter of James T. Sloan, a prominent citizen of Fort Payne, Ala., died at a hospital in Cleveland, Tenn., last night from the effects of injuries received in an automobile wreck. She and her husband were returning to Knoxville after a visit to her parents. Mrs. Keele was driving the car and in attempting to pass another machine ran off the road and her car plunged down an embankment. Mrs. Keele was thrown against the windshield and the broken glass severed an artery and the blood from loss of blood after reaching the hospital, despite the fact that her husband gave his blood in a transfusion made in an effort to save her life.

Duchess of Westminster, Friend of Wales, Arrives

PLEADS IGNORANCE OF TROUBLES WITH DUKE

New York, September 2.—The Duchess of Westminster, whose quarrel with her husband, the adventurous duke, got into the English courts on the eve of her sailing, arrived on the Majestic today to visit friends on Long Island and "to pay my respects to the prince," as she expressed it.

The duchess declared she knew nothing of the suit for an injunction, filed by her attorneys as she boarded the ship, to restrain the duke from ousting her servants from her home, Bourton house, in select Berkeley square, London.

Nor would she discuss reports circulated here that the legal action over Bourton house was only the preliminary for a suit for divorce.

Reference to the sensation created in London when the duke refused her permission to use his town residence for the Italian hospital ball brought non-committal replies from the duchess. Guests were to have included the king and queen of Italy, the Prince of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of York.

"I probably shall see them while I'm in America," she added, "and undoubtedly I shall pay my respects to the prince and participate in some of the social affairs in his honor, but, really, I am to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pulitzer and not of the duke."

Herbert Pulitzer, the publisher, and a brother of Ralph, also a publisher, accompanied the duchess here.

NEW OCEAN CABLES TO SPEED SERVICE

NEW YORK, September 2.—Transmission of transoceanic messages at a speed five to eight times as great as the highest now attained in standard cable practice is the promise held out by the Western Union Telegraph company with the laying of the American end of a new type of submarine cable at Rockaway Beach, L. I., today. It will be the first direct connection between the United States and southern Europe.

According to announcement of the company, the line will be laid from New York to Horta in the Azores, thence to Rome by way of Malta, Spain, a total distance of 2,400 miles. At Horta the new cable will also be connected with another which will be laid from the Azores to England, Germany, recasting communication which has been broken off since the war. Thus northern, eastern and southern Europe will be served, with Rome and Madrid as gateways.

Since Cyrus Field connected the continents in 1858 speed in transoceanic communication has been a problem of sending and receiving apparatus, but no radical changes in cable service have been made. It is stated, in research conducted by the war experts have found that the "loading" system used in telephone communication is applicable to the lines laid under the sea.

Engineers learned that nickel and iron, combined under proper conditions in the proportion of about 90 per cent nickel and 10 per cent iron, formed an alloy which is the most highly magnetic substance yet discovered, having, when properly treated, more than 30 times the magnetic permeability of soft iron. The research was begun on the theory that a cable conductor of this alloy would carry intelligible signals at a higher rate of speed than had previously been possible.

The permalloy is applied to the new cable in the shape of a single ribbon or tape, six thousandths of an inch thick, and of an inch wide and a little more than 10,000 miles long. It is wrapped in a spiral around the central copper core or conductor of the cable from end to end. The cable itself, except for the heavily armored shore ends, is about one inch in diameter.

Speed is gained, the announcement of the company says, because the "overlapping" of impulses noted on old cables is eliminated. At a comparatively low speed of sending, even with the use of the most highly perfected and sensitive electrical apparatus, the signals at the receiving end become almost indistinguishable over the present lines, it is asserted.

The new cables, constructed in Greenwich, England, by the same company which built the Atlantic cable in 1866, arrived yesterday on the cable ship Colonia.

AUSTRIAN PREMIER TO GIVE AMNESTY
TO HIS ASSAILANT

Vienna, September 2.—Within the past two or three hundred years assassins would be assassinated—have been boiled in oil, skinned alive or ushered out of the world in some equally unpleasant manner.

But now, partly because modern punishment is more humane and partly because Chancellor Seipel, of Austria, is a Catholic bishop, who wants his practices in Christian precept, one of the 1924 crop of assassins will be allowed to go free.

Karl Jaworek, who pumped three bullets into the prince, and a few months ago with such effect that it was for a time believed he would die, probably will be included in an amnesty order covering several minor criminals which will be issued by President Hainisch as a thanksgiving offering for the chancellor's recovery.

Seipel made a special request that Jaworek be included in the amnesty. As a Catholic bishop, he apparently feels it duty bound to forgive Jaworek and give the country a lesson in applied Christianity.

The chancellor will soon resume his official duties. Many Austrians view his recovery as almost miraculous.

DAVIS IN CHICAGO FOR WESTERN TRIP

CHICAGO, September 2.—Join W. Davis, nominee of the democratic party for the presidency, reached Chicago today to prepare for his first invasion of the west. Upon his arrival this morning, after a trip through West Virginia, Ohio, and Indiana, he was met by a band and a reception committee and escorted to his hotel, where he spent the day in conference with leaders of his party in the middle west.

Tonorrow, he will devote his time chiefly to preparation of the address he is to deliver in Omaha on September 6, in which he will deal chiefly with the agricultural problem.

In his conversation today with the western leaders, Mr. Davis obtained his first close-up of the political situation in this section. Among those with whom he conferred were Lincoln Dixon, manager of the western democratic headquarters, and George E. Brown, national committeeman from Illinois.

Whether Mr. Davis will speak in Chicago on his present visit has not been decided.

Mr. Davis, in approaching the agricultural problem, was represented as having no panacea for all the ills of the farmer, but would discuss the democratic proposals in behalf of the agricultural interests. It is understood that relief by cooperative marketing in this section, among those in the Omaha address.

Lot Five Miles From Five Points Brings $250 Foot

Pass Christian, Miss., September 2.

In an address here today, United States Senator Pat Harrison acclaimed the work of reparation commission as an achievement which will bring about the adjustment of European affairs and stabilization of the world, but declared that the republicans were not fair in listing it as an administration victory.

He said only a few months ago the administration refused to acknowledge the official character of the experts, expressly stating that the Davies commission was acting as the agent of the allied countries, with no official recognition from or binding force on the United States. The commission, he said, was nonpartisan in character, and Mr. Davies in his official report accredited Owen D. Young, a democrat, for a large part of the success of the commission.

He charged that the whole history of the republican party relative to foreign affairs was one of negation and obstruction.

WHOLESALE MEATS
HIGHER IN AUGUST

Chicago, September 2.—Wholesale meat prices in August were slightly higher than those in July, according to a bulletin issued today by the Institute of American Meat Packers, which compares prices for the month with those for the same month in the previous year.

The meat trade, the bulletin continues, "during the month just closed was fairly satisfactory. There was a good demand for fresh pork and smoked meats and the beef trade, though still relatively low as compared with meat prices during normal times."

"As in previous recent months, the export trade was somewhat quiet, although improved as compared with July. The hog market was strong throughout the entire month, the average price at Chicago remaining well above $9 per 100 pounds after the opening day."

RACE HORSE OWNER
DIES IN AUTO CRASH

Baltimore, Md., September 2.—William H. Robinson, of Front Royal, Va., race horse owner, was almost instantly killed in an automobile accident near Catonsville suburb early today. The driver of the car, Dawson Lee, of Columbia, Md., said he was almost killed by the glare of an automobile approaching from another direction. His machine swerved and crashed into a telegraph pole. Robinson's neck was broken and his throat slashed. Lee suffered cuts and bruises.

Robinson had six horses stable at the Timonium track. Robinson is survived by his widow and one child.

LA FOLLETTE INDORSEES
LEADING IN WISCONSIN

Milwaukee, September 2.—Governor J. J. Blaine, candidate for nomination for reelection on the republican ticket, running with the endorsement of Senator Robert M. La Follette, began to show his strength early in the count of today's primary election returns.

When the first 1,022 precincts out of the 2,678 in the state had reported, he was leading the three-cornered race with 71,002.

Arthur H. Hirst, formerly state highway engineer, who resigned after Governor Blaine had charged lack of cooperation in his department and excessive expenses for good roads, was second, with 54,679.

George F. Comings, lieutenant governor under Blaine, was running third with 37,751.

Senator La Follette, who was the result of a steady gain from the start of the count.

The weight of the endorsement by Senator La Follette began to also show in the race for secretary of state, where Fred Zimmerman, incumbent, is running with the endorsement of the Wisconsin senior senator.

Winant Beats Knox.

Manchester, N. H., September 3.—Captain John G. Winant, of Concord, N. H., defeated Governor John C. Hamshire at the republican primary election yesterday by a majority over Major Frank Knox, of this city, which probably will be upwards of 2,000 votes. The Manchester Union, published by Major Knox, will announce Wednesday morning.

Recounts from 236 out of 264 election precincts gave Winant 17,261 and Knox 15,241.

Use of Hammer
On Pretty Rival Charged to Girl

Police have instituted search for Miss Ruby Cross, 22, who resides at a Whitehall street rooming house, following her alleged attack with a hammer on Miss Ethel Williams, 24, of the same address, in which the latter is said to have been beaten on the head. The latter's injuries were treated at Grady hospital, but were not serious, and she was discharged.

The attack, Miss Williams told Call Officers Goode and Bullard, resulted from a quarrel between the pair regarding an unnamed man, "Ruby," she said, "accused me of stealing a man who belonged to her. We had quite an argument, and becoming enraged, she picked up a hammer, and struck me several blows on the head, knocking me down. I was partly unconscious when picked up and taken to the hospital."

Other roomers at the house told of being attracted by the commotion and screams, and of finding Miss Williams lying on the floor. In the meantime the alleged hammer wielder had escaped.

ATLANTAN IS HONORED
BY WORKMEN'S CIRCLE

Savannah, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Selecting Memphis as next year's meeting place, the workmen's circle, Jewish Educational association, ended its sessions here today. M. Freeman, of Chattanooga, was chosen district secretary, and M. J. Berlin, of Atlanta, assistant district secretary.

HARRISON HITS G. O. P. FOR UNJUST CLAIMS

Pass Christian, Miss., September 2.

In an address here today, United States Senator Pat Harrison acclaimed the work of reparation commission as an achievement which will bring about the adjustment of European affairs and stabilization of the world, but declared that the republicans were not fair in listing it as an administration victory.

He said only a few months ago the administration refused to acknowledge the official character of the experts, expressly stating that the Davies commission was acting as the agent of the allied countries, with no official recognition from or binding force on the United States. The commission, he said, was nonpartisan in character, and Mr. Davies in his official report accredited Owen D. Young, a democrat, for a large part of the success of the commission.

He charged that the whole history of the republican party relative to foreign affairs was one of negation and obstruction.

WHOLESALE MEATS
HIGHER IN AUGUST

Chicago, September 2.—Wholesale meat prices in August were slightly higher than those in July, according to a bulletin issued today by the Institute of American Meat Packers, which compares prices for the month with those for the same month in the previous year.

The meat trade, the bulletin continues, "during the month just closed was fairly satisfactory. There was a good demand for fresh pork and smoked meats and the beef trade, though still relatively low as compared with meat prices during normal times."

"As in previous recent months, the export trade was somewhat quiet, although improved as compared with July. The hog market was strong throughout the entire month, the average price at Chicago remaining well above $9 per 100 pounds after the opening day."

Little three-year-old Dick had discovered and taken from the top of a ladder leaning against the rafters of an unfinished house.

Unknown to Dickie, his mother had been informed of his escapade. The following morning the mother told him of a terrible dream she had, and of how she saw him carried from a high ladder. Dickie was astonished.

"What made you dream that, mother?"

His mother replied that she didn't know, but that she supposed God gave mothers dreams so that they might know what their little boys did.

With a look of disgust, Dickie said: "Mother, God, can't keep a secret, can He?"

Jenkins had been at a friend's house, playing poker, and came home at 2 o'clock in the morning. He was considerably relieved to find his wife fast asleep when he tiptoed into bed.

It seemed to him that he had scarcely closed his eyes, when his wife awoke him. She was suffering with a severe toothache, and insisted that he dress himself and hurry to the nearest drug store for some crovete.

He was to ring the night bell until the druggist (who slept in the rear of the store) appeared.

Jenkins dutifully slipped into his trousers and was halfway down the stairs when he had an uneasy thought.

"Er—suppose some footpad holds me up and—er—robs me?" he huskily whispered.

"Don't you worry about that," his wife replied; "I've been through your trousers pockets five minutes after you came home, and all of your poker winnings are safe with me."

Trooper O'Neill

BY GEORGE GOODCHILD

"We'll be there tomorrow," said Rodd.

"St. Claire?"

"Yes." He was silent for a moment. "Looks like we'll have to hustle some," said Rodd.

"Yes. Tomorrow we'll sum up the evidence."

"Are, and the next day we'll probably be under the law."

"O'Neill—I ain't complaining—oh, no. There is nothing I want more than to get going with a six-shooter on something. But once we set foot in St. Claire those Frenchies will close up like oysters. Maybe we'll have to arrest the whole darn colony."

"Perhaps—but I think not. In the first place, Rodd, you are going to be a decoy."

"Oh, am I?" growled Rodd. "And what's that, anyway?"

"You will camp outside the colony and float your authority as a custodian of the law."

"And what about you—ain't you in it at all?"

"Yes. But I'm going to enter St. Claire as an ordinary trapper. Whilst they are concentrating all their attention on you, as a much-hated policeman trying to arrest one of their tribe, I may pick up a few clues."

"Val, it's your funeral," growled Rodd. "What you say goes, but if there's going to be any gun-throwing I'm in it."

"Of course. I'll come to you every evening and we'll compare evidence. First of all we've got to examine the shack along the river where the killing took place, then we'll decide our next step."

Rodd nodded and put more wood on the fire.

Half an hour later dogs and men were asleep in the intense soul-disturbing silence of the sub-arctic night.

The next day, at noon, they reached the deserted shack where Dell had lived and was shot.

O'Neill looked around the place carefully. It comprised two rooms, the one in which he now sat, and a smaller one immediately behind it.

On the right of the door was a small window, one of the panes of which was broken, giving access to an icy draught, whenever the wind blew, despite the piece of cardboard which had apparently recently been dropped against it. A rough pine table and two Windsor chairs were the sum total of the furniture.

Soon he was busy with a jack-knife, extricating something from the wall behind him. At length he held it in the palm of his hand—a 350 bullet, flattened and discolored. His eyes lighted up as he turned it over.

"Found it first time," he muttered. "So you expected to hit on that?"

"Of course. Dell said he fired his revolver. The bullet had to go somewhere."

"Yep—I never thought of that. Anyway it don't cut much ice."

O'Neill gave a short laugh. "It cuts more ice than you think."

Candidates Begin Last Lap As Primary Date Draws Near

As the date draws near for the state-wide democratic primary on September 10, political candidates for the various offices are making extensive drives in the last few days before the citizenship will go to the polls to vote. Less than one week remains before all of the political speeches will be history and ballots will be in process of being counted.

And in these last few days the candidates for the many offices will visit only those communities where they feel that a last word will better their candidacy.

Outstanding in the race for state offices is that between United States Senator William J. Harris and former Senator Thomas W. Harris. Both of these candidates have made many campaign speeches, Senator Harris pointing to his record in bidding for reelection and former Senator Harris attacking the record of Senator Harris, and making an attack on the Ku Klux Klan.

The only thing to be done after the primary, in so far as the governor's chair is concerned, is to count the votes cast for Clifford Walker, who is unopposed for reelection, following the withdrawal of H. H. Elders from the arena several weeks ago.

Many Are Opposed.

Other races which will interest Georgians will be those of J. B. Brown, incumbent, and George F. Hummer, for commissioner of agriculture; N. H. Ballard, the incumbent, and Fort P. Land, for state school superintendent; C. E. McGee, the incumbent, and John W. Clark, for state pension commissioner; John T. Boffe, incumbent, and Representative O. R. Bennett, for public service commission; and James D. Price, incumbent, and Representative Albert J. Woodruff, of DeKalb county, for the public service commission.

In addition to the state offices there is a hot race on for congressional seats. In the First district Congressman R. L. Moore, of Statesboro, is opposed by former Congressman C. G. Edwards, of Savannah; in the Second district Congressman Frank Parks, of Sylvester, is being opposed by E. E. Cox, of Camilla; in the Fifth district Congressman William D. Upshaw is opposed by Max Wilensky, of Atlanta; in the Sixth, Representative Ben Fowler, of Bibb county, and Representative Sam Rutherford, of Monroe county, are fighting for the seat; in the Eighth, Congressman Charles H. Brand, of Athens, is opposed by Representative Frank Holden, of Clarke county, while in the Ninth district Congressman Thomas M. Bell, of Gainesville, is opposed by Sam G. Brown, of Gwinnett county.

There are six candidates of various districts who are unopposed for reelection. They are Congressman Charles R. Cobb, of Americus, Third district; W. G. Wright, of Newnan, Fourth district; Gordon Lee, of Chickamauga, Seventh district; Carl Vinson, of Milledgeville, Tenth district; W. C. Lanford, of Douglas, Eleventh district, and W. W. Larsen, of Dublin, representing the Twelfth district.

Counties Are Voting.

At the same time the ballots are being cast, voters in Bibb, Chatham, DeKalb, Richmond and Muscogee counties will decide the question of whether or not their clerk of court.

PRICE OUT OF DANGER, RETURNS TO ATLANTA

Francis E. Price, Constitution staff photographer, was seriously injured at Athens last week, when the plane in which he was riding while taking pictures of the first demonstration of the application of calcium arsenate from the air, crashed into a clump of trees, was brought to Atlanta Tuesday night from the Athens hospital, where he has been confined since the accident. Many of his friends met him at the Terminal station.

Mr. Price, while practically out of danger, will be forced to remain under observation for several days. He was accompanied to Atlanta by Miss Luke Johnson, superintendent of the hospital at Athens.

Asked whether or not he would fly again, as he was lowered in a stretcher out of a window to the ambulance, he declared that he would "lie on the straps" as soon as possible and urge the pilot to higher altitudes than ever before. Mr. Price was taken to his home, 560 North Boulevard.

Political Rallies

James L. Key, candidate for mayor, and the three second ward councilman candidates, will be principal speakers at a political rally at Crew Street school Thursday night. It was announced Tuesday by Dr. W. B. Lingo, chairman of the world war veterans committee which arranged the meeting. All city candidates have been invited to attend.

Fulton and DeKalb county candidates for state and county offices will speak at a political rally in East Atlanta school at 3 o'clock this afternoon. It was announced Tuesday by Miss Katherine Koch, chairman of the Eleventh Ward League of Women Voters. The meeting today is the first rally held in the eleventh ward under the league's auspices during the present campaign.

Candidates for election to state and county offices will speak at an entertainment to be given Thursday night at the Lakewood Heights Baptist church, at Jonesboro road and Sawtell avenue.

Among the contributions for the relief of those who lost everything in the Lorain, Ohio, tornado, was a check for $100 given by prisoners in the Kentucky state reformatory.

HUMPHRIES URGES COURT FOR BOYS

Expressing alarm over "an appalling increase of crime among boys of 16 to 20 years," Judge John D. Humphries, of the Fulton county superior court, declared in his charge to the new grand jury Tuesday that an intermediary court should be established for consideration of cases for these youths. Judge Humphries deplored the "unfortunate arrangement" which makes it necessary for young boys to go to the penitentiary where they come in contact with hardened and experienced criminals.

Judge Humphries termed the situation "one of the greatest tragedies of the day," declaring that something should be done to remedy the present system which is "ineffectual and improper." Boys between the ages of 16 and 20 can not be admitted to reformatories, Judge Humphries set out in his charge, and some sort of institution or court should be established for disposition of such cases, he said.

Other subjects discussed by Judge Humphries included a general reference to "law enforcement."

"More than mere infringement of a statute is involved in law-breaking," he said. "There is the breaking of a law, and the breaking of the public's attitude toward laws and institutions. The public should be trained in law observance. It is the certainty of punishment that deters from the commission of crime."

The September term grand jury was empaneled with Francis W. Kamper as foreman, and A. C. Meisell as secretary.

LAST SERVICE HELD FOR THOMAS HEYS

Americus, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Many friends, representing persons in all walks of life and every part of Sumter county, attended the funeral here Monday.

Thomas Gordon Heys, who died Sunday, Rev. John M. Outler, pastor of the First Methodist church of Americus, officiated. Interment was at Oak Grove cemetery here.

Members of the Kiwanis club, with which Gordon Heys had been affiliated since his organization, attended the funeral in a body.

Surviving him, besides his widow, Mrs. Rose Sherlock Heys, and their adopted son, Billy Heys, are his father, W. R. Heys, four sisters, Mrs. Robert L. McMath, of Americus; Mrs. E. A. Shipley, of Andrews, S. C.; Mrs. H. D. Jacobs, of Americus, and Mrs. R. B. Winlock, of Augusta, and two brothers, Sam R. Heys, and L. Kellethe Heys, both of Americus.

Victim Nabs Bobbed Bandit And Young Pal

Alexandria, Va., September 2.—Minnie Wilcox and Edward Hansborough, of Baltimore, both 19 years old, are held by police here on charges of attempted highway robbery.

The plan failed, police say the girl told them with a grateful shake of her bobbed hair, because of her inexperience, and John H. Fisher, a Washington chauffeur, cast for the role of victim in her first "job," was enabled to turn the tables, capturing her and her companion. Another youth, whose name she refused to give, escaped, and went back to the car, shortly saying no one was there. They started back toward the capital. When they reached Gun Spring, Va., he alleged, he was struck over the head, and dazed, ditched his car. Recovering quickly, he related, he drew a pistol and fired at the two girls, who fled until a passing motorist came to his aid. He brought them over to the police, and they were arrested.

After engaging him in Washington last night to drive them to an address in Mount Vernon, Fisher reported, one of the male members of the trio left the car and came back shortly saying no one was there. They started back toward the capital. When they reached Gun Spring, Va., he alleged, he was struck over the head, and dazed, ditched his car. Recovering quickly, he related, he drew a pistol and fired at the two girls, who fled until a passing motorist came to his aid. He brought them over to the police, and they were arrested.

Miss Wilcox, police assert, declared she planned the holdup and the pull of her 100 pounds behind the bow that stunned the chauffeur, using an unloaded pistol which she threw away. Hansborough, however, is said to have denied vigorously that the girl struck the blow, saying this was done by the missing man, a stranger to him. He and the girl are both former residents of Delray, Va.

"I'm sorry I didn't get away with it," she is quoted as saying. "If I had more experience I'd have gotten away with it."

KID M'COY ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

Los Angeles, September 2.—Kid McCoy, former pugilist, today pleaded not guilty to one charge of murder, three of assault with intent to commit murder and four of robbery. The murder trial was set for October 20.

McCoy is accused of having slain Mrs. Theresa W. Mors, divorced wife of Albert A. Mors, antique dealer, with whom he was living under an assumed name.

Setting of the murder trial date for October 20 was opposed on by the court over the protests of defense counsel, who asked a further extension to take affidavits in Indiana, Illinois and New York.

NEWTON LIST READY FOR PRIMARY RACES

Covington, Ga., September 2.—The registrar list for the democratic primary, which will be held in Newton county on Wednesday, September 10, has been completed by the Newton county board of registrars, consisting of C. L. Harwell, chairman; R. P. Lester and John J. Carter.

The total number of registered voters is 2,543. Covington district leading with 866; Cedar Shoals district, which includes Porterdale, with 404 votes, and Wyatt with only 24.

It will be necessary to secure 1,278 ballots in favor of bonds on September 10, in order to carry the election for good roads, but judging from reports coming in from all districts, the bonds will carry by a large majority.

F. D. Ballard and R. W. Campbell are opposing L. C. Loyd, incumbent, for the Georgia legislature.

Pre-War Prosperity Is Seen for Europe By Mellon on Return

New York, September 2.—Pre-war prosperity will return to Europe now that the Dawes plan is in effect, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon predicted today upon his arrival from abroad aboard the White Star liner Majestic.

Mr. Mellon's statement concerning his experience abroad was brief, however. Reaching quarantine several hours overdue because of fog, presaging the tag-end of a hurricane traveling up coast, the secretary of the treasury was met by a score of government officials and hurried to the Battery aboard a revenue cutter.

Mr. Mellon entrusted for Washington immediately upon landing, saying he was "anxious to get back to business."

He declined to discuss whether his presence with that of Secretary of States Hughes in England and France at the critical periods of Dawes plan negotiations had any official significance. He was certainly an unofficial visitor in Europe, he said, and went there primarily for recreation.

"The Dawes plan speaks for itself," was his comment. "I am very optimistic for the complete rehabilitation of Europe through its operation. I expect that Europe will be on a pre-war basis of prosperity within a short time after the necessary financial preliminaries are negotiated."

Both the Maxwell and Smyth concerns, desiring to remove their headquarters to a more centrally-located city and realizing the advantageous situation of Atlanta, have located here and will hold weekly auction sales at the Atlanta Union Stock Yards, the former holding sales every Monday and the latter on Tuesdays. The Atlanta Union Stock Yards recently was reorganized by a corporation headed by Asa G. Canfield, Jr., W. H. White, Jr., and C. B. Heidemann, and is now, perhaps, the largest stock yards in the south, with more than 12 acres under roof. Extensive repair work is being carried on at the yards, and Maxwell and Smyth firms occupy spacious quarters.

Mule buyers, many of whom remained over in the city during Monday and Tuesday, and many others coming in Tuesday, were well pleased with the opening sales, according to officials of the stock yards, and prospects for future sales are viewed with the highest optimism.

Bank Superintendent

IS SUED FOR LOSSES

Nashville, Tenn., September 2.—Seeking to hold $8,800,000, state superintendent of banks and the surety company on his official bond, liable for the losses as depositors in the People's bank, of Springfield, Tenn., which was closed, Mr. McConnell on July 15, five depositors today filed suit in the Davidson county chancery court.

The complainants and the amounts they claim to have had on deposit are: P. G. Smith, $9,376; Mrs. A. G. White, $906; A. G. White, Jr., $297; Mrs. Sallie Chance, $2,553; and Miss Allen Chance, $2,500.

It is alleged that the superintendent of banks did not examine the People's bank twice a year, as required by law, and that he failed to make proper inquiry and find out the condition and resources of the bank, the mode in which its affairs were being administered and the safety and prudence of the management. On account of his alleged failure to do this, it is stated he failed to require the bank to execute bond to protect the depositors and other unsecured creditors.

It is stated in the bill that the bank will not pay as much as 4 per cent to the depositors when the assets have been disposed of and the bank liquidated.

WAYCROSS PERFECTING PLANS FOR BIG FAIR

Waycross, Ga., September 2.—Members of the various committees appointed to arrange for the Waycross agricultural fair, which is to be held during the week of October 4, met today at a called meeting in the chamber of commerce to discuss final plans for the arrangement and advertisement for the fair.

The financial committee, which has been busy for the past two weeks securing subscriptions, announced the amount on hand to finance the fair and definite plans for the opening of the fair are fast assuming shape. This is the second annual fair to be held in Waycross and the chamber of commerce is anxious to make it even greater than the first fair last year.

COMMITTEE TO ACT ON WATER MINIMUM

Alderman W. B. Duvall, vice chairman of the city council finance committee and legally acting head during the interim between resignations of Alderman J. R. Bachman, former chairman, and appointment of a new chairman by Mayor Walter Sims, announced Tuesday night that he would call a special session of what body before the next meeting of the council to consider the Williamson-Carpenter amendment to change the water minimum from 500 to 700 cubic feet for one dollar.

Reports Tuesday to the effect that the water rate change could not be considered until a new finance committee chairman is appointed were denied Tuesday by Mayor Sims and Alderman Duvall, who agreed that the amendment, as vice chairman, has the power to act as head of the committee until a new chairman is appointed.

The proposed change in water minimum was embodied in an amendment introduced jointly by Aldermen Oscar Williamson and J. L. Carpenter. Councilmen J. A. White, Harry York, Frank Callaway, Dr. C. J. Vaughan, Dr. L. P. Baker, Dr. W. M. Johnson and W. E. Saunders.

Only the 11 co-authors voted for immediate adoption of the paper, when a show of strength was called on a motion to refer it to the finance committee, and the motion to refer to the committee was adopted.

If it do not think there is any necessity for calling a meeting of the committee until the latter part of next week because its recommendations could not be considered and discussed before the next meeting of council a week from next Monday," the alderman stated.

The committee has held two meetings with Dr. Duvall acting as chairman since the resignation week before last of Alderman Bachman as chairman.

WHEELER HITS DAWES UPON KLAN POSITION

Portland, Maine, September 2.—Rain caught Senator Wheeler's campaign today in northern New England today and came close to wrecking mass meetings in the interest of the third ticket which had been laid out in Maine. Shipping and siding in an automobile over wet roads from his old home town of Hudson, Mass., where he spent part of the day, the vice presidential nominee set to Portland after 8 p. m. Before a city hall gathering, he took up the Ku Klux Klan issue. He emphasized the fact that General Dawes, republican nominee, had preceded him in the same state and death with the same topic.

"It was heralded widely that Dawes would come out on the Ku Klux issue up here," Senator Wheeler said. "The people here always know progressive regarded the subject."

"Nobody can be in ignorance of how Robert La Follette stands on it. Yet I don't believe any man who heard General Dawes talk or read what he said can decide for himself whether General Dawes is for or against the Klan."

"John W. Davis, the democratic presidential nominee, declared himself after some hesitation, but the country is still waiting for President Coolidge to abandon his silence on the subject."

Outside of his Klan discussion, Senator Wheeler repeated what he had said before his other New England audiences—that the sole issue in the campaign was that of "returning the government to the people."

Building Used By Paul's Converts Believed Found

Constantinople, September 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Details of uncovering on the site of Antioch of Pisidia in Asia Minor, of the foundation of a large Christian church which, it is said, may represent a successor of the church founded there by Saint Paul, have been brought here by Professor Francis W. Kelsey, of the University of Michigan expedition, which is excavating under the direction of Professor David M. Roberts.

The existence of such an edifice had been known previously, but its date and character could only be determined by excavation. The church was of the Basilica type and more than 200 feet long. The nave was 160 feet long and approximately 35 feet wide. The aisles on either side of the nave had a width of 150 feet and were separated from the nave by columns.

Eighteen inches below the floor level of the nave was found a mosaic floor which clearly belonged to a much earlier church. The floor contained several mosaic inscriptions in the Greek language, two of them referring to the Bishop Optimus, who lived about 375 A. D. The floor was carefully laid in small cubes of stone about a half inch square, arranged in geometrical pattern in five colors—red, yellow, blue, rose and white.

The significance of the discovery may be far-reaching, in the opinion of the excavators. Professor Kelsey said:

"While the excavation has not yet been completed, there is a probability that the congregation which had the resources to build such a massive church at such an early date represented the principal ecclesiastical organization in the city."

It is natural to suppose that this church organization grew out of a group of the faithful converted by the preaching of Paul and that the structure itself may stand on the site of the house in which they first assembled or in which Paul preached.

SUMTER COUNTY CUTS TAX RATE 1-2 MILL

Americus, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Notwithstanding a reduction, amounting $518,638 in taxable value as compared with last year, the Sumter county board of commissioners, at their regular meeting just held, voted to fix the tax rates during the coming year at 12 mills, or one-half a mill less than during 1923.

Without taking into account the decrease in the millage rate, the falling off in tax values alone means a saving to tax payers of $62,588.

DAVIS-BRYAN WORKERS WILL MEET TONIGHT

Organization of subcommittees and further plans for an extensive campaign in this section will be undertaken at the second meeting of the Fulton county committee of the Georgia Davis-Bryan club, which will be held at 8 o'clock tonight on the roof garden of the Ansley hotel, Chairman Joseph W. Humphries announced Tuesday.

The committee held its first meeting last week, and a financial campaign was immediately inaugurated, and Fulton county's goal set at $5,000, to be used with the $20,000 which the Davis-Bryan club expects to raise in other counties of the state for financing the democratic presidential campaign in Georgia.

Chairman Humphries has extended an invitation to all persons interested in the democratic campaign to attend the meeting, and is desirous that representatives from all sections of the county be present.

DIVIDENDS

Are Necessary to the Progress and Development of any Business

Invested money must earn money, or there will be no new capital forthcoming with which to take care of increased volume. This theory is elemental and the statement is trite; yet it is interesting to know that nearly one half of America's second largest industry pays no dividends on its capital stock. Three billion dollars worth of stocks in railroads (of the approximately seven billion dollars outstanding) is not earning or paying a dividend.

What is the reason for such a condition existing? How long can this continue? How long will investors be willing to put their money into such non-profitable securities?

The first question is easy to answer: "Increased operating expenses without proportionate increased revenues." The second and third questions cannot be answered until the American people, through their lawmakers, evidence a keener appreciation of the railroads' problems, and in some quarters a fairer and less radical attitude toward the carriers. In order to serve the Nation with adequate freight and passenger transportation, the railroads must have new capital to take care of needed improvements and extensions. New capital will not come when capital already invested is not paying a fair return.

THE OLD RELIABLE

Kiwanians Urged To Boost Bonds For Good Roads

An earnest appeal to Kiwanians in all parts of the state, asking cooperation in securing passage of a state bond issue for roads at the 1925 session of the legislature was made by W. Tom Winn Tuesday noon at an open forum meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Ansley hotel.

Mr. Winn pointed out that under the biennial sessions bill passed at the last session of the legislature, if the bond issue is not passed next year, no action can be taken for three years, as the assembly will not meet in 1926.

Moving beggars and unsightly mendicants from the streets of Atlanta was the theme of George F. Eubanks, who urged officials of the Community Chest to use their influence to this end.

Putting up street signs on the corners was suggested by Pat McGuire, who stated that the city already had the signs but that no funds have been provided to pay for their erection.

A solution of the traffic problem for the busy section of Atlanta was offered by Frank T. Reynolds, who illustrated his plan with a large map. It proposes to make two-way streets of Spring, the Peachtree, and Whitehall; one-way streets of Forsyth, Broad and Pryor; Forsyth to be traversed from Mitchell going north, Broad, from Peachtree going south. His plan bars parking on the two-way streets but allows it on the one-way streets.

Five hundred dollars was voted to be spent on the bond issue propaganda. Committees were named to act on the question of moving beggars and erecting the city signs. The club voted to accept the invitation of the Monroe club to visit it and about 30 strong will go to that city on the night of September 11. Twenty members will go to Madison on September 18.

STATE WILL APPEAL FROM BANK DECISION

Secretary of State S. G. McLendon announced Tuesday that application for re-hearing will be filed with the Georgia supreme court following a decision handed down Tuesday to the effect that the secretary had no right to refuse a charter to W. D. Manley and associates, of Atlanta, for "The Bank of the State of Georgia."

The case arose recently when Mr. McLendon refused to grant the charter on the ground that the proposed name for the bank would be unauthorized use of the name of the state, and would create the impression that the corporation was a state institution.

The petitioners instituted mandamus proceedings, but a judgment was refused in Fulton superior court. An appeal was made to the supreme court, which Tuesday reversed the judgment of Judge W. D. Ellis, and held that "the secretary of state has no discretion, under the law covering the issuance of charters of banks, to refuse to grant a certificate of incorporation for banks where there is full compliance with all required specifications in the statutes, but in such circumstances it is his absolute duty to issue certificates." A bill forbidding issuance of charters to corporations so named that there would be an inference that they are connected with the state was introduced in the recent general assembly, and passed the senate, but was lost in the last-minute rush in the lower house.

POLICE EXTEND FIELDS' SEARCH TO COVER SOUTH

Search for Richard Fields, 46, of 16 Short street, who Monday night shot his wife in the left leg was extended Tuesday to cover the south, his description being sent to all principal cities and towns with the request that every effort be made to apprehend him. In the meantime Atlanta detectives and county police have joined hands in a thorough search of Fulton county.

Mrs. Fields was wounded about 10 o'clock Monday night by her husband who used a shotgun in an effort to kill her, she told police. Mrs. Fields seized the barrel of the weapon, bending it toward the floor, thus saving her life. The family trouble is said to have been caused by a quarrel over a small insurance policy payment.

Willie Fields, 18-year-old son, who lived in the home with his father and mother, and Johnny Fields, 21, another son who lives across the street at 15 Short street, Wednesday were aiding the police in their search. Doctors at Grady believe they will be able to save Mrs. Fields' leg.

REDUCED PRICES WILL RULE TODAY ON PARK DEVICES

Before school begins again, children of Atlanta will be entitled to enjoy one more big day at Lakewood park, all attractions today being available for 5 cents. Adults also will be allowed to participate for a nickel.

The day has been arranged, according to the management, to give the children of the city the last opportunity to indulge in the funmaking in the park for a nickel before school opens again.

No admission will be charged, and the gates will be open from 9 o'clock until late at night.

ODD FELLOWS TO HOLD BIG MEETING TONIGHT

The third degree will be conferred on a large number of candidates at a meeting of Schiller lodge, No. 71, Odd Fellows, to be held at 8 o'clock tonight, at Broad and Alabama streets, it was announced Tuesday by A. H. Citron, noble grand, and Allen Turner, secretary.

A number of out-of-town visitors are expected, and all members of the lodge are requested to be present to welcome the visiting delegations.

PRIZE WINNERS IN BIG PARADE ARE ANNOUNCED

Announcement of awards to prize winning floats and organizations in the Labor day parade Monday were made Tuesday by the citizen judges, appointed by the general Labor day committee.

The parade was one of the largest in history, and approximately 30,000 persons attended the celebration at Grant park during the afternoon and night, according to estimates of the committee. The crowd, park officials state, was one of the largest ever gathered in the park.

Prize awards follow:
For appearance, first prize of $100, garment workers; second prize, $50, carpenters; third prize, $25, molders. The following organizations won honorable mention for their appearance: Colored bricklayers; No. 6, elevator constructors, and painters and decorators.

First prize of $100 offered for the most beautiful float in the parade was won by float representing the blacksmiths. The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen won the second prize, $50, while the float of the electrical workers was decided winner of the third prize, $25. Honorable mention was conferred upon the floats of the mechanics, and brick masons.

The following communication was sent to the general committee from the citizens who acted as judges in the parade:
"Your committee desires to express its praise and appreciation of the manner in which all details were taken care of by the general committee, and also the military order in the line of parade. We have seen in any previous Labor day parade."
(Signed) "CAPT. GEORGE M. HOPE, MAJOR A. A. CASE, JOHN C. MACKAY."

COMMITTEE WILL URGE MORE CARS FOR HIGH SCHOOL

The special council committee, headed by Alderman J. R. Bachman, which for nearly a year has been considering the Georgia Railway and Power company's petition for relief for the street railway, opened negotiations with the power company Tuesday to cooperate in obtaining additional increased service for the new high school for boys. It was assigned to the additional work by council Monday after receipt of a communication from the power company announcing inability, because of its financial condition, to provide additional car service.

ABERCROMBIE FUNERAL WILL BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for J. B. Abercrombie, of Sea Breeze, Fla., who was killed last Friday in an automobile accident, will be held this morning from Chapel Hill church, near Douglasville, Ga. Mr. Abercrombie was well known in Atlanta, and was a frequent visitor to this city. He is survived by his widow, a son, Carl Abercrombie, and two sisters, Mrs. J. L. Selman, of Sea Breeze, and Mrs. A. S. Elder, of Atlanta.

MACCABEES INITIATE BIG CLASS THURSDAY

Initiation of a class of more than 50 Atlantans will mark the opening Thursday night of September activities in Maccabee circles, it was announced Tuesday. Ceremonies and initiation of the class has been arranged in honor of Frank O. Gray, southern supervising deputy, of Birmingham, and a member of the council of supreme officers of Maccabees. More than 40 candidates had been accepted up to Tuesday noon, with two score applications awaiting official action Wednesday, according to local officials. Special efforts have been put forth by members of the Georgia and Palestine tents, it is stated, to break all former initiation records so far as numbers were concerned, as a special tribute to Deputy Gray.

The crack Maccabee drill team will have full charge of ceremonies and a large number of out-of-town visitors are expected to witness the elaborate initiation. The local drill team is attracting wide attention and scores of southern lodges have requested permission for the Atlanta team to participate in initiations in those cities.

Commander A. E. Bailey, of Georgia tent, and Commander Charles Green, of Palestine tent, have extended invitations to all Georgia Maccabees to attend the ceremonies Thursday night at the Maccabee temple, 217 1-2 Peachtree street.

State Subcommittee To Complete Plans For Election Today

Plans for holding the state democratic primary on September 10 will be made at a meeting of the primary committee of the state executive committee, to be held at 11:30 o'clock this morning in the office of the state game and fish commissioner, at the capitol. It was announced Tuesday.

This will be the first meeting of the subcommittee since its appointment a short time ago by Chairman Maddox. In the meantime the official ballots have been sent out and everything is in readiness for the voting, it was stated.

COMMISSION TO HEAR STATE ROAD PROTEST

November 1 has been set as a tentative date on which the interstate commerce commission will be asked to hear protests against its valuation of the property of the Western and Atlantic railroad. It was announced Tuesday by Attorney-General George M. Napier. The Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, of the W. & A. property, will join the state in protesting the valuation.

The properties were valued at $16,000,000 by the interstate commerce commission, while the Georgia public service commission values them at $25,000,000.

STATE COMMITTEE PLANS TO CORRECT ELECTION TICKET

In an effort to correct a serious error made in sending out the democratic ticket to ordinaries in Georgia, which contained the names of candidates for the "railroad commission," Chairman Edward Maddox, of the state executive committee, will bring the question up for discussion before the subcommittee at a meeting in Atlanta today.

The name of the state railroad commission was changed to the state public service commission by the general assembly two years ago, and at present there is no such body in Georgia as the railroad commission. When two of the four candidates for the public service commission are nominated at the primary on September 10 for places on the "railroad commission," since no such body exists, the question has been raised as to whether or not the democratic party will have any nominees for the two places.

It was said that the error can be corrected by passage of a resolution by the subcommittee defining the "railroad commission" to be the "public service commission."

SALVATION ARMY LEADERS WILL BE INSTALLED TONIGHT

Formal installation of Adjutant and Mrs. George Paxton, of the southern division of the men's social service work, will take place at 8 o'clock tonight at 41 Luckie street headquarters. Adjutant Paxton supplants Staff Captain Ferdinand Braun who assumes charge of army work in Pennsylvania district.

Coolidge Edward J. Parker, head of this department of the Salvation Army work in eastern half of the United States with headquarters in New York City, will arrive this morning to officiate at the services.

Colonel Parker directed organization of the forces of the Salvation Army which participated in the world war, and is looked upon as one of the ablest men in his ranks.

Army men's social service centers maintain hostels at Savannah, Charleston and Jacksonville. The Atlanta hotel is located at 271 Luckie street.

BEN HILL POLITICAL RALLY IS POSTPONED

The political rally scheduled to be held Wednesday night at the Baptist church, in Ben Hill, has been postponed until a later date, according to Mrs. Bessie Davis. The death Monday morning of Mrs. A. Hays, member of the church, and the fact that funeral services and interment will not be held until late Wednesday prompted the postponement, Mrs. Davis asserted.

MILK BOARD GIVEN APPROVAL BY MAYOR

Creation of a milk commission for Atlanta, as approved by city council Monday, was given final approval by Mayor Walter A. Sims immediately upon receipt of the ordinance from council Tuesday afternoon.

The milk commission, proposed by Dr. W. B. Duvall, alderman from the First ward and chairman of the sanitary committee of council, is to be composed of three milk producers, one physician and one citizen from the city at large appointed by Mayor Sims.

The mayor said that he was not prepared to make the appointment, but would confer at length with officers and members of the state and local dairymen's associations, of the Fulton County Medical society, and of civic organizations interested in the better milk question, to get commissioners satisfactory to all interests concerned.

The milk commission plan was offered by Alderman Duvall as a substitute for his original milk pasteurization ordinance, which was opposed by dairymen and milk-selling concerns almost unanimously.

GUARD OFFICERS RESUME REGULAR MEETINGS TODAY

The regular weekly luncheon meeting of officers of the 122d Infantry, Georgia national guard, will be resumed today at noon after an interruption of two weeks during which time the regiment was in camp at St. Simon Island. About 30 officers are expected to attend the luncheon in the Rainbow room of the Ansley hotel at 12:30 o'clock.

Captain E. E. Haigler, of the 22d infantry, stationed at Fort McPherson, will be the guest of the 122d officers. Other regular army officers stationed at the post have been invited.

It is expected that definite plans for Atlanta's participation in National Defense Test day ceremonies will be outlined at the meeting, along with announcement of plans for a corps of speakers to appear at leading theaters and before civic organizations during the next few days to more clearly define the real motive for mobilization of the military. Criticism and opposition to the Defense Test day plans, appearing in certain quarters, has been strongly condemned by many leading citizens and others interested in adequate military strength. This matter, it was learned Tuesday night, is expected to come in for general discussion today.

An Act of Justice To a Brave Young Woman

On last Sunday the following appeared as an advertisement, which on its face said it was inserted and paid for by one of Miss Margaret Culberson's friends without her knowledge. Having seen it, I was so impressed with the truth and fairness of it that I am paying for having it reprinted on my own hook and likewise without her knowledge.

ANOTHER FRIEND.

"A TRIBUTE FROM A FRIEND:"

"Miss Margaret Culberson is a candidate for County Treasurer in the primary of September 10th. Her father, Hubert L. Culberson, was nominated for re-election to this office in the primary this spring. He died this summer.

"Miss Margaret, his daughter, who is one of the loveliest young women in Georgia, had finished school and was taking an additional course with a view of fitting herself for life work, when she was called home by a horrible automobile accident to her mother and was detained here by the succeeding lingering illness of her father.

"During her father's illness, she took up the work in his office. Did it well, and gained the experience that fits her for the position.

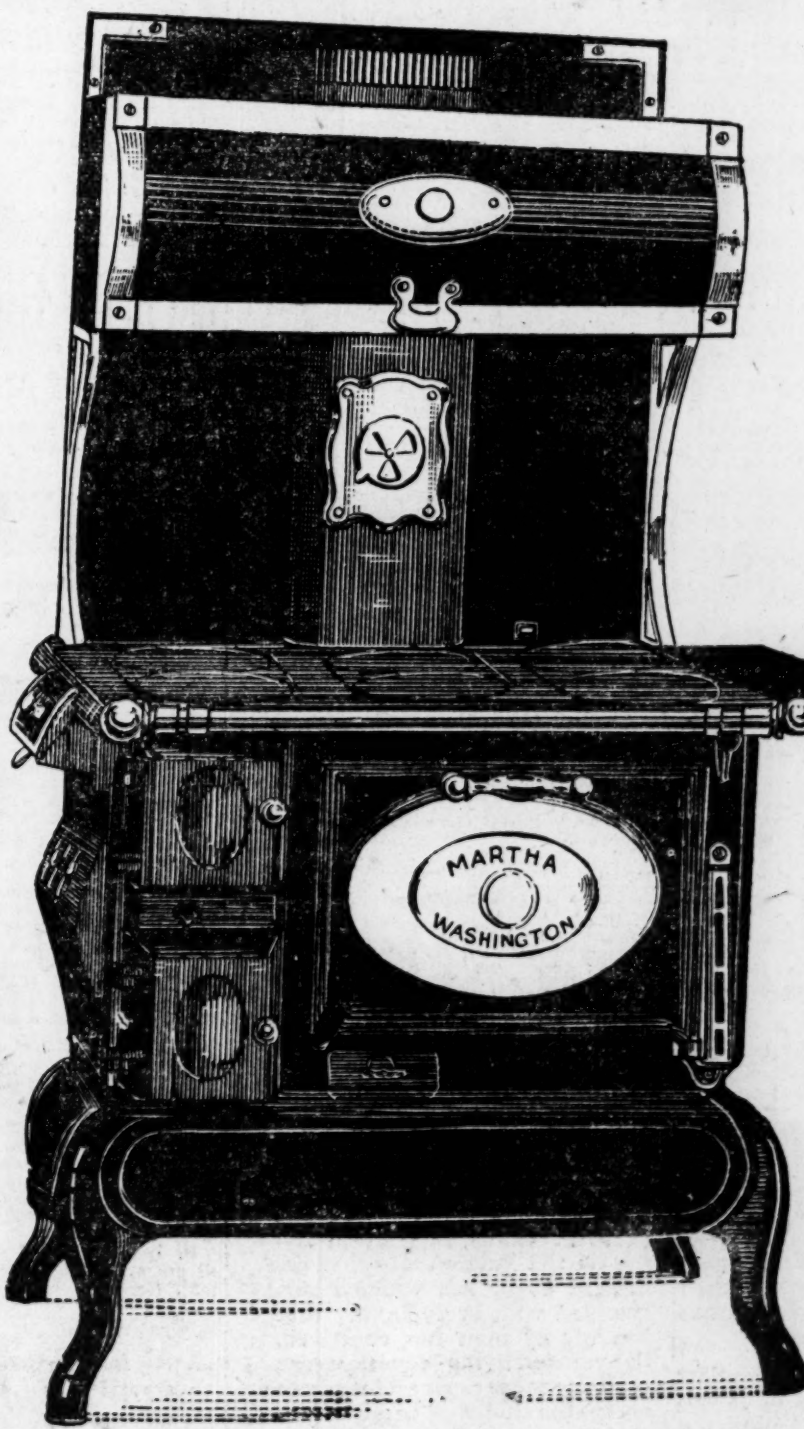

"Friends, ascertaining on her father's death that the condition of his estate made it necessary for his daughter to seek employment, paid her entrance fee and put her in the race for the position she is so competent to fill.

"She needs the position; doubtless needs it worse than any other candidate for the place. She is nearly thirty years old, is very intelligent, and is the only candidate for the office that has ever demonstrated ability to fill the office by having had actual experience in the work.

"This advertisement is written by one who knew and loved her noble, big-hearted father, who has known Miss Margaret since she was a small child, and is written and paid for, without the knowledge of Miss Culberson or any campaign committee she may have, in the belief that when the people of this county know the facts they will do themselves the justice and the pleasure of voting for her, as a tribute to womanhood of this kind."

Wales No Main Street Hero But One of Midnight Sons

BY THE SAUTERER.
(Copyright, 1924, by John Dille. Reproduction prohibited.)

Syosset, L. I., September 2.—The Prince of Wales would never fit in the social life of Main street in a 9 o'clock town. He is of the midnight sons. He is of the clan which greets the dawn before going to bed, not afterward. He got to bed a little after 6 this morning.

The party that the Devereaux Milburns gave for Wales was exactly like all the other dances held at their home at which the polo set meets and at which there is the informality created by intimacy. It was a much more sophisticated frolic than the luncheon given by the Harold I. Pratts and was exactly to the liking of the royal guest.

Mrs. Morton's Rivals.
The hostess who inherits the amiability of her mother, Mrs. Charles Steele, knew exactly how to make it swing. The Honorable Mrs. Richard Norton, with her black hair, gray eyes and famous flashing smile, was the central figure, but she met her rivals in many of the stunning matrons among those present. Mrs. Bryce Wing, niece of F. Suffern Taylor, for instance, who was one of the beauties present, is a match for any visitor from Great Britain and others of much fascination present were Mrs. Sid Fish, who continues to dress in Victorian style, Mrs. Maxwell Stevenson, whose speech is exactly like that of the prince in her premonitory and her new winter flattery, and Mrs. William Woodward, the only one of the Croyder triplets whose hair is not permanently wavy.

In the Harriman bouquet were Mrs. Averell Harriman and her three sisters-in-law, Mrs. Robert J. Gerry, Mrs. R. Penn Smith and Mrs. Charles Cary Rumsey, who since her return from England has been lighting a new widow's black and therefore is one of the most interesting members of the set. The guests where the game was played were decorated with garden flowers in shades of yellow.

Miss Nash wore a gown of black crepe de chine, trimmed in cream lace.

Mrs. F. M. Nash, mother of the hostess, assisted in the entertainment of the guests.

Those present were Misses Laura Candler, Judith Rice, Emeline Hamby, Lole Latham, Minnie Meier Carter, Ruth Paden, Kirby Willingham, Virginia Watts, Elizabeth Lockhart, Mrs. Donald Hastings, Mrs. Frances Miriam, Mrs. Augustine Sams, Mrs. Henry Rice, Mrs. F. J. Flake and Miss Frances Hank.

West End Woman's Club To Hold Art Meeting.
The monthly meeting of the West End Woman's club will be held on Wednesday afternoon, September 3, at 3 o'clock in the club rooms, 305 Gordon street.

Miss Ellen Brooks, who is chairman of the art committee, announces the subject for this meeting will be "Architecture."

Atlanta Chapter D. A. R. To Meet Thursday.
The executive board of the Atlanta chapter, D. A. R., will meet with the chairman, Mrs. Edwin Stewart, 777 Ponce de Leon avenue, Thursday morning, September 4, at 10:30 o'clock.

Ladies' Aid Society To Entertain.
The Ladies' Aid society of the Evangelical Lutheran church, will hold an ice cream festival this afternoon and evening on the church lawn corner Euclid avenue and Druid Circle.

Miss Alpha Seams Lane Ford entertained at a matinee party on Tuesday in compliment to Miss Sarah Belle Broadnax, a bride-elect of September.

Mrs. A. L. Fowler is at the Waldorf in New York, after having spent the summer at Rockland, Maine. Her mother, Mrs. Ida Achenbach, and her aunt, Mrs. Henry J. Luther, of Orange, Texas, are also at the Waldorf.

Mrs. Ewing Dean Gives Children's Party.
Mrs. Ewing Dean was hostess at a children's party on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Juniper street, in celebration of the fifth birthday of her daughter, Dorothy.

Throughout the home summer garden flowers in the pastel shades were used in decorating. The handsomely appointed table held as a central decoration a large white birthday cake adorned with pink rosebuds.

Little Miss Dean wore a pink georgette crepe trimmed in French flowers.

Theater Party Honors Miss Poole.
Mrs. Martha L. Semon entertained at a matinee party on Tuesday at the Forsyth, in honor of Miss Frances Poole, whose marriage will be a social event of September.

Invited to meet Miss Poole were Misses Clara Bell King, Constance Cone, Mary Frances Coolidge, Marie Rhodes, Edith Coleman, Martha Matthews, of Thomaston; Virginia Semon, Catherine Candler, Mrs. George Woodruff, Mrs. T. R. Peabody, Mrs. Berry Hill Mobley, Mrs. T. O. Poole and Mrs. R. A. Stippler.

Luncheon Is Given By Miss Cora Brown.
Miss Cora Brown entertained at luncheon Tuesday at her home on Pryor street, guests including a small group of friends.

The luncheon table was daintily appointed and graced with a mound of marigolds in deepest shades of yellow arranged in a large cut glass bowl.

Covers were placed for Miss Brown, Mrs. Ned Hartley, Miss Emma Scott, Miss Elizabeth Lovett, Miss Gusti Scott, Miss Ruby Graham, Mrs. B. G. Beare and Mrs. M. G. Chaney.

Miss McClendon Is Lovely Bride of James Preston Hook

The marriage of Miss Marie McClendon and James Preston Hook was an event of social interest and took place Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Bishop and Mrs. Candler on North Decatur road.

The ceremony was performed by Bishop Candler.

Mrs. Henry A. Thompson, the matron of honor, wore a smart gown of tan and brown georgette crepe and her corsage was of pink roses.

Edward B. Hook, Jr., brother of the groom, was the best man.

The lovely bride wore a stylish three-piece suit of cocoa and black checks and her hat was a small model to match. She wore a sabbie necklace and carried a bouquet of roses, showered in valley lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. Hook left for a wedding trip to New York, Niagara, Cleveland and Detroit, and upon their return will be at home at 64 Ponce de Leon avenue until the completion of their honeymoon.

Miss Hook is the only daughter of Mrs. Marie B. McClendon, of Oklahoma City, and the late Judge Orlando McClendon, of Newsum. She is the granddaughter of Major J. J. McClellan of Augusta, and niece of Mrs. John E. Donaldson, of Bainbridge, Ga., formerly Mrs. Louise M. Gordon, of Atlanta. Her maternal grandfather was the late Judge Bush, of Kentucky.

Mr. Hook is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Hook, of Augusta. On his paternal side he is the grandson of the late Judge and Mrs. James Schley Hook, and on maternal side the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Lees Maude, of Atlanta. He is a brother of Edward B. Hook, Jr., of Atlanta; Frank Hook, a cadet at the U. S. Naval academy, at Annapolis; Lamar Hook, of Pittsburg, Pa., and Mrs. Rivers Varn, of Beaufort, S. C.

Mr. Hook is a nephew of Walter Preston Maule, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Milton Saul, of Dallas, and a great-nephew of the late Robert Clarke and Thomas M. Clarke, two of the pioneer leading citizens of Atlanta, and of Mrs. Albert Howell and Mrs. Frank J. Sprattling. He is a graduate of the Richmond academy of Augusta, and Georgia Tech.

Served with distinction as an officer of the Eighty-second division in the A. E. F. in France, where he was severely wounded in the Argonne offensive.

Mr. Hook is a popular young business man of Atlanta and has been connected with the local office of the John Douglas Co. for several years.

Mrs. Alice Brown Is Hostess.
Mrs. Alice Brown, superintendent of the Martha Candler home on Capitol avenue, entertained with a miscellaneous shower in compliment to Miss Gertrude McKinnier and Miss Irene Hamilton, two brides-elect of the week. The double wedding will take place at 38 Capital avenue today.

Mrs. Brown was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. Clara Power, Miss Emily Adams, Miss Bertha Connor, Mrs. Josephine Morris, Miss Blanche Berry and Miss Maud Beal.

SLAMS AND SALAAMS

By Louise Dooly

WE could be more patiently tolerant of the incoming stove-pipe hats if we did not foresee women without chins wearing them, too.

Robok Learning.
SPEAKING against the federalization of education, Nicholas Murray Butler says that "standardization, government-made uniformity and bureaucratic regulations are not the allies of education, but its mortal enemies."

He cites the condition of Prussia before the war, when the central government held the schools and educators in the hollow of its hands, dictated what was to be taught, and made the schools a branch of the bureaucracy.

There is in federalized education a similar danger to that which may be foreseen also in the proposed uniform divorce law.

Namely, the equal chance, with politics working overtime, that the states having the higher standards would be brought down to the level of those content with the lower.

Where There Isn't Any.
We asked a Carolinian the other day how the non-divorce states work in South Carolina.

Does the fact that there is no divorce obtainable in South Carolina keep down the number of divorces? or do people in proportionate numbers to other states go out of South Carolina to be relieved of their marriage contracts? we asked.

The impossibility of obtaining a divorce in the state does have an appreciable effect on the stability of marriage, was his positive statement.

The main reason is the social intolerance of it in South Carolina. The people can go out of their state to get a divorce, but if they do, they feel in most instances constrained to stay away.

Because, returning, they find practically no social tolerance of the divorced state, or certainly remarriage. And after all, mightn't people be superior to estrangement by their own social group?

A Mold of Form.
We looked into several books on etiquette, by the way, and we could find nothing which declares for or against such excellent publicity material as Irene Castle's when she declared on her return from Europe recently that she had promulgated one of the smartest of Parisian books.

condition? Is it not after all the fault of the mothers of the boys? Are boys, as a rule, being given any training in the gentler arts? Isn't it another case of the mothers slurring over their job? It's easier to let the boys come and go without question. 'Yes' is easier and pleasanter to say than 'no' and not so likely to bring on argument.

"You're right," came an emphatic approval. "Watch the boys who do show the girls courtesy, deference. (There are a few.) And you'll see pretty quickly that they are the boys who are most with their mothers; whose interests are their mothers' interests; who are the product of a mother's painstaking care and training."

"And they're not sissies. Ask the girls. They'll tell you so."

You plainly prefer them, the chief post-graduate job the boys' mothers have to attend to is to keep such well-trained youngsters from being spoiled by the girls."

"And that," somebody said laughingly, "brings us back to where we started."

WE could forgive the materialistic philosophers almost anything else if they did not interpret spiritual ecstasy as sublimated desire.

But why should any higher than material conception of any spiritual state be expected of philosophers steeped in materialism?

"I'm there at Syosset, where the Prince of Wales is," guessed the cynic. "I bet the girls are so thick that when the prince walks out, they have to use a fly swatter to clear a way for him."

"And at that," retorted the spinster, "my guess is that the girls are not as ubiquitous as the married women."

"Lord Carson," came the reply. "Wrong," said the clergyman, as he recovered his breath.

Another hand went up. "Well, my boy, who do you say?" encouraged the clergyman.

"Wrong again," snapped the parson.

Finally, a little lad gave the required answer. Judge of the clergyman's feelings, however, when he overheard the first boy remark, sotto voce, to the lad who had given the correct answer: "All right; wait till we get you outside, you darned little Sinn Féiner."

DINNER STORIES

The wife woke her husband up in the middle of the night to tell him that she had heard burglars moving about.

"You'd better go down, William," she said.

"Good gracious!" replied William. "What a low opinion you must have of me! I'm not in the habit of associating with burglars."

Cosmo Hamilton, English author, recently related this story:

A widely known divine was visiting a boy school in Ulster. After a talk to the assembled multitude, he asked if any boy could tell him the name of the greatest man who had ever lived. "I've got a hand,"

"Well, my boy?" said the clergyman.

"Lord Carson," came the reply. "Wrong," said the clergyman, as he recovered his breath.

Another hand went up. "Well, my boy, who do you say?" encouraged the clergyman.

The Luxury of Love

BY VIOLET DARE

XX—CAMILLA'S NEWS.

As Salambo's hoofs came crashing down on the defenseless body of Bruce Gillian there was a moment of horrified silence; then a low, agonized cry burst from the throats of the hundreds who watched. Before the horse could trample Gillian's life out, however, Stewart O'Brien leaped forward, revolver in hand; a cry that was almost human broke from the great horse, as a bullet went into his head.

Mary Hayward came to as O'Brien lifted her in his arms and laid her down on the waiting stretcher. Her first thought was one of bitter disappointment. She hadn't been able to end it all, then; she was still alive! Alive, she thought, with a gasp, as she remembered that she loathed, one that had brought her wretchedness and glory, shame and such adulation as it is the lot of few women to receive.

"Mary, are you hurt?" O'Brien demanded, bending over her. Vera Atwood, her husband, a score of paces behind, crowded close about. Mary shook her head weakly and closed her eyes. But she opened them again instantly as a voice beside her said: "What about Gillian? Was he killed?"

Gillian—killed! The words seemed to be seared into her brain. She turned her head. There lay the man who meant all the world to her, the white serge of his clothing bearing ominous crimson stains.

"He tried to cry out to him. Surely he could not die and leave her like this, the girl, cruel world alone. It would be better to have him alive and married to Camilla than to have that happen."

"Bruce! My darling!" It was Camilla's voice. She came pushing her way through the crowd to kneel beside the stretcher on which Gillian lay. She knelt beside it, between it and Mary.

Mary turned her head weakly. After that was Camilla's place, beside her, Camilla spoke to her just then, but she did not answer; she felt too desolate, too completely absorbed by her unhappiness, to include him in her thought.

"She must be unconscious again," she heard him say.

When the doctor bent over her, in the charming chintz-hung room to which they carried her, she looked up at him, and he said: "We have thought and sent Vera Atwood and the nurse away."

"Now what is it?" he asked, as she looked at him with a gasp, as she remembered that she loathed, one that had brought her wretchedness and glory, shame and such adulation as it is the lot of few women to receive.

"Don't think I don't see through you, Vera," Mary answered. "You know that I can't afford to stay here at the club and pay a nurse, and you know that I love Camilla. You're a darling, and I'll go home with you."

Camilla came in to see Mary the next morning, just before the expedition to the Atwoods' started. Lying back on a chaise longue, with a soft white coat wrapped around her, and her bright hair tucked up under a little white motor cap, Mary had looked especially beautiful, a fact which, flattered with him, no liked him particularly, and certainly, she had never thought of confiding in him. Yet now his profession changed all that. She did not hesitate to lay her heart bare.

"Bruce—is he dead?" she asked. "If he is, I can't go on." Tears filled her eyes and rolled down her cheeks, but she kept her gaze on him.

"Not indeed," he answered promptly. "Got some bad cuts where the horse's hoof got him, one on his head and one on his shoulder, but nothing serious. Don't worry about him, Mary. Now, lie still, and don't worry. You were lucky—not badly hurt at all."

"Don't worry." Weak though she was, Mary smiled at that. So don't worry, when all her life must be so empty. But with Bruce alive she had much to be thankful for.

She tried not to think of him, tried not to picture his room, with Camilla bending over him. Camilla came in, awkwardly solicitous, to ask if there was anything he could do. Vera Atwood, her face stained with tears, came to announce that she was going to take Mary to her house just as soon as possible.

"You don't want to stay here at the club, my dear," she insisted. "You won't get good care here, I'm afraid. And you'll have to leave a nurse, which is a nuisance. And certainly, if you don't like Camilla, she'll annoy you."

that Camilla found distinctly irritating. She had meant to be friendly, but the sight of Mary was too much for her.

"I'm simply in despair," she exclaimed, flopping down in a chair. "This accident means postponing my wedding, you know—and now I don't see what we're to do. Poor dear Bruce is so upset—he says if his hip really is seriously injured—"

"What do you mean?" Mary's voice was harsh. "His hip? I didn't know it was hurt."

"Well, Salambo's hoofs struck it, and he may be lame for life," retorted Camilla drily. She couldn't help feeling that Mary had arranged the whole accident on purpose. "He says that if he is he's not going to let me to him forever—that I didn't bargain on having a maimed husband when he proposed! Of course I told him that I wouldn't care if he was deaf, dumb and blind—"

Mary leaned back limply. Bruce lame, because of her? She wanted to run to him, to beg him to forgive her. "If I could only see him—"

she did not realize that she was speaking aloud, but Camilla rose quickly, as if to forestall her.

"Oh, he can't see anyone—anyone but me, of course," she cut in hastily. "He couldn't possibly see you. You ought to realize, Mary, that he'd hardly want to. His saving you was a beautiful, chivalrous thing, of course—he could no more have helped doing it than he could have stopped breathing. But you ought not to remind him of that dreadful moment when he saw the horse's hoofs coming down on him. Why, I don't believe that he could bear the sight of you."

She was half-hysterical. She had lain awake all night, torn by thoughts that were as agonizing as any she could have dreamed of. She had sat beside Bruce when Mary rode into the ring on Salambo, had noted how tense he was, how worried, she spoke to him and twice and he had not heard her. And then, when Mary was thrown, he had cried "Beloved!" And he had not been speaking to Camilla.

BEAUTY CHATS

BY EDNA K. FORBES.

BEGINNING A DIET.

The first few days are the hardest part of a reduction diet. The stomach has been used to a great deal of food, and when it receives a lesser amount, it naturally sets up disturbances. Gnawing hunger isn't pleasant; it's still less pleasant when you are surrounded by good food and have eaten some of it.

But here's a way of stopping that demand for too great quantities of food. Think of your stomach as a sack or a bag, which has been gradually stuffed fuller and fuller, until it has stretched badly and its capacity has enormously increased. Perhaps you don't like the idea, but it's a fairly accurate one, nevertheless. The large stomach wants large quantities of food at meal times, the smaller stomach wants less food. Therefore, reduce your stomach. Once smaller, it won't ask for so much food, and dieting will be far more pleasant.

Now, reducing the stomach is easy. A one or two days' fast will do wonders with it. The elasticity of the human body is really remarkable any way. Have you ever (if you are rather stout) drawn a tape measure around your waist before taking off your stays, and afterwards? There are inches and inches of difference, yet you felt as comfortable with the corsets on.

Try a 24-hour fast if you aren't a great deal overweight, a 48-hour one if you are. During that time, drink orange juice, water, skimmed milk, or hot tea with lemon in but no milk sugar. Take a glass of orange juice for breakfast, skim milk for lunch and dinner, orange juice at bed time. The juice is laxative, another good thing at the beginning of a reduction regime. Never mind if you do feel a bit weak, let it go. You'll be thinner!

Mrs. D. J. S.—An oily skin leads to enlarged pores, and the digestive trouble that causes the skin to act this way also produces the lumps. These are blind pimples that become absorbed again into the blood before they come to the surface. You will wear your skin if you try to force it out by an eruption. Regulate your system by eating more fruit and green vegetables, and omit all rich foods for a time.

Curly—For strengthening and also reducing fat of the abdominal muscles, lie with back flat on floor and then rise to a sitting position with feet held down. Rise entirely without using the arms to help prop the body.

Tomorrow—Skin Eruptions.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department, will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

POEMS THAT LIVE

MARGARET TO DOLCINO.
Ask if I love thee? Oh, smiles can't tell Plainer than tears are now showing Had I not loved thee, my sky had been clear;
Had I not loved thee, I had not been here.
Weeping by thee.

Ask if I love thee? How else could I Borrow from man's slander, and Pride from man's slander, and Laugh when they sneer at the fanatics bride.
Knowing no bliss, save to toil and Weeping by thee.
—Charles Kingsley.

Is your child the fourth?

It is estimated that one child out of every four is in need of eye correction. Too many children are suffering from eyestrain or eye defects unknown to themselves and unsuspected by their parents.

If your child has difficulties with his studies, think before you censure and have his eyes examined at once.

ATLANTA — 75 MARITTA ST.
DECATUR — 136 SYCAMORE ST.Miss Felton Weds Charles L. Andrews At Home in Macon

Macon, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Society gathered tonight to witness what was perhaps the most important of the early fall weddings, when Mrs. Elizabeth Felton, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Felton, Jr., was married to Charles L. Andrews, of Memphis, Tenn., at the home of the bride's parents on College street at 9 o'clock. Dr. Rufus W. Weaver, of Mercer university, officiating.

The parlor, wide hall, living room and dining room were thrown together to receive the guests and beautifully and artistically decorated, the ceremony being performed in the parlor, where an altar was improvised before the mantel.

Proceeding the ceremony, Mrs. Vassar Patrick, Gowned in a becoming dress of Nile green georgette beaded in crystal and wearing a corsage of orchids and valley lilies, gave two selections, "My Dear," and "Melody From Jocelyn," accompanied by Miss Beulah Smith. Guttenberger's orchestra rendered "Lohengrin's" wedding march, to the strains of which the bridal party entered.

Bridal Party.
The groomsmen, Marion Massee, Jr., and Jim Brown, were the first to enter and they stood at the altar awaiting the bride. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Grady Harris, matron of honor, then entered, lovely in a gown of orchid georgette, which fell in straight lines from the shoulders and was embroidered at the hem with a design of orchid and purple beads combined with rhinestones. At each side the gown was softly draped and caught with rhinestone ornaments. Her flowers were Russell roses.

Miss Ruth Felton, sister of the bride and maid of honor, is an exquisite blonde whose shingle bob is most becoming and her delicate coloring was enhanced by her frock of green chiffon threaded in silver.

The bride descended the stairway alone and was met at the foot by her father, A. C. Felton, Jr., who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, his brother, Carroll Andrews, of Memphis, Tenn.

The Bride.
Miss Felton, in her gown of white, was a radiant picture of girlish beauty. The extreme simplicity of her gown, which was satin back crepe trimmed in seed pearls, was in itself artistic in the highest degree of the word. Her court train of white satin fell in graceful folds from her shoulders and her veil of white tulle was bound to her head with a coronet of real lace, a family heirloom. Clusters of the exquisite flower beloved by brides, the orange blossom, were placed on the crown of the coronet. Her shower bouquet was of bride's roses and valley lilies.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Felton entertained with a brilliant reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews left during the evening for a wedding trip in New England and New York. They will make their home on their return in Memphis, Tenn.

Nashville Markets Get 23.5 Cents a Pound For 227,000 Pounds

Nashville, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Tobacco sold here today at a fancy price considering the high price of common tobaccos on the market. Two hundred and twenty-seven thousand pounds were sold today at an average of 23.5 cents a pound.

The Nashville market will close September 11, and it is estimated that this market will sell over 5,000,000 pounds of tobacco.

FITZGERALD AVERAGES 22 CENTS A POUND.

Fitzgerald, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Forty thousand pounds of tobacco were sold on today's market here at an average of 22 cents per pound. The highest bid was 47 cents a pound. Ruel Sellers, of Ben Hill county, received the $10 gold premium from the chamber of commerce for the best tobacco sold on today's market. Fitzgerald market will close Friday, it was announced today.

Cotton, however, will take the place of this "weed." It is coming in fast, three local gins operating day and night this week. Receipts to date exceed entire season's crop of last year and it is estimated that crop is about one-third picked.

INTEREST INCREASES IN LAURENS RACES

Dublin, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—As the date for the democratic primary, September 10, approaches, interest in the election of state house officers from Laurens county, and judge and solicitor general of the Dublin circuit superior court increases.

Judge J. L. Kent, of Wrightsville, is opposed by Dr. Earl Camp, of this city for circuit judge. Judge Kent has served since the circuit was created nearly ten years ago. E. L. Stephens, of Wrightsville, present solicitor general, is opposed by Fred Kea, well-known attorney of this city. Dr. A. M. Rountree, of Adrian, has no opposition for the state senate.

Laurens county is entitled to three representatives, and by ruling of the county democratic committee, each candidate must name the place for which he is making the race. Ernest Clarke, of Elberton, who served in this capacity during the last term, has no opposition. Hal P. Wimberly is opposed by J. Marion Peacock. Mr. Wimberly has served for two terms. His race for reelection is made on the abolition of the Dublin circuit. His opponent is a young attorney and a nephew of John T. Boileau, of Atlanta.

Colonel S. Parker New, of this city, incumbent of the third place, has for his opponent, Dr. H. K. Kirtrell, also of this city. Dr. Kirtrell served as representative during the session of 1921-1922 and was defeated by Colonel New on an anti-state port platform. Colonel New is making the present race on the same issue.

The Australian ballot system will be used in the county, as well as the city, by ruling of the county grand jury.

Woman's West End Civic Club Exceeds Pledge to Tallulah

Mrs. Edward Hardaway Smith, who represents the Woman's Civic Club of West End on the campaign committee for the Tallulah Falls school building fund being conducted by the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs. The Woman's Civic club raised $700 in ten days, exceeding its pledge by $200 and winning the distinction of being the first club to surpass its quota.

Mrs. Edward Hardaway Smith, of 273 Holderness street, West End, is chairman of the committee from the Woman's Civic club of West End for the drive being conducted by the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs in the interest of Tallulah Falls industrial school for mountain girls and boys, owned and directed by the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. T. T. Stevens, president of the Atlanta federation, is chairman of the drive, which has for its objective the raising of $20,000 for a building fund with which to expand and equip the school to meet the demands upon it. Mrs. Murray Howard is president of the Woman's Civic club of West End, which, by Mrs. Smith's energy and ability, has acquired the distinction of being the first member club of the Atlanta federation to exceed its pledge in the drive.

This club, one of the youngest members of the Atlanta federation, promptly pledged to raise $500 when called upon to aid "Georgia's Light in the Mountains," as the school is frequently called. Within ten days after

Savannah, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Savannah is a city of veteran public servants. Today A. John Toshach celebrated the 38th anniversary of his service with the city fire department. He is assistant chief.

Saturday James S. Hallford, first lieutenant of police, will observe the 30th anniversary of his service on the force.

Many other veterans are in service in Chatham county and in the city. The record is held by Professor Michael A. O'Brien, principal of Abercorn Street Grammar school, who when school opened this month will begin his 55th year as principal. He is said to be the oldest school principal in point of service in the United States.

Wedding in Macon Unites Miss Kessler And Frank Goldberg

Macon, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss Jeanette Kessler, daughter of Mrs. I. Kessler, to Frank Goldberg, of Augusta, took place tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the Sherrah Israel synagogue, Rabbi W. Funk, of Augusta, and Rabbi Isaac Marcuson officiating.

The synagogue was elaborately decorated with palms, white lilies and smilax. The background of the altar was of green palms with floor vases of lilies and cathedral candelabra at each side.

Small gates of white opened at the foot of the stairway leading to the altar and these were held open by the ushers allowing the remainder of their ritual party to pass through. The ceremony took place under a huge canopy of white satin in the shape of a six-pointed star. The star was outlined with smilax and electric lights.

Mrs. Simon Moore, sister of the bride and matron of honor, wore a gown of powder-blue georgette trimmed in crystals and carried an arm bouquet of Russell roses and valley lilies.

The little flower girls were Celeste Kessler in a frock of white georgette, whose yoke of embroidered fillet was its only trimming except a rose of white satin ribbon on the shoulder. Flowing from the rose were tiny white ribbons, at the end of which were lilies of the valley, and Miss Margaret Goldberg, of Augusta, whose frock was of flesh-colored georgette. They carried baskets of rose petals.

Mrs. Kessler, the bride's mother, wore a handsome gown of orchid georgette heavily beaded in crystal and rhinestones, with a sash of silver cloth.

Bride's Gown.
The bride wore a wedding robe of white satin. The gown was made with a yoke of lace, the design of which was embroidered in pearls and rhinestones. The yoke extended to the shoulders, giving the effect of a small sleeve. It was rather short, following the dictates of fashion this fall, and was draped slightly on each side. Her court train of white satin fell from the shoulders and around the sides were bands of real lace. It was finished with a deep length of lace. Her veil of white tulle was bound to the head with a coronet of pearls with a band extending from the forehead to the back, where orange blossoms were gracefully arranged. Orange blossoms showered the veil at intervals. Her flowers were bride's roses and valley lilies. She wore the engagement gift of the groom and link bracelet of diamonds and platinum.

Bridal Party.
In addition to their room, other members of the wedding party were Sam Goldberg, of Augusta, best man; J. Goldberg, father of the groom, and the ushers, Julius Cofsky and Philip Warren, of Augusta, and Walter H. and W. Walter Kessler, of Macon.

Following the ceremony Mrs. Kessler, who represents the Woman's Civic Club of West End on the campaign committee for the Tallulah Falls school building fund being conducted by the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs. The Woman's Civic club raised $700 in ten days, exceeding its pledge by $200 and winning the distinction of being the first club to surpass its quota.

Mrs. Edward Hardaway Smith, of 273 Holderness street, West End, is chairman of the committee from the Woman's Civic club of West End for the drive being conducted by the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs in the interest of Tallulah Falls industrial school for mountain girls and boys, owned and directed by the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. T. T. Stevens, president of the Atlanta federation, is chairman of the drive, which has for its objective the raising of $20,000 for a building fund with which to expand and equip the school to meet the demands upon it. Mrs. Murray Howard is president of the Woman's Civic club of West End, which, by Mrs. Smith's energy and ability, has acquired the distinction of being the first member club of the Atlanta federation to exceed its pledge in the drive.

This club, one of the youngest members of the Atlanta federation, promptly pledged to raise $500 when called upon to aid "Georgia's Light in the Mountains," as the school is frequently called. Within ten days after

Savannah, Ga., September 2.—(Special.)—Judge W. H. Barrett, of the federal court, having declined to restrain the sale of 15,000 acres of Albany county land of near Midway, the old Sunbury settlement went under the hammer at a legal sale here today. Thomas Gresham, of Richmond, Va., bought the plantation for $25,000.

The sale was at the instance of the Virginia Trust company, proceeding against the Sunbury Lumber company for collection of an obligation of $30,000. The greatest lumber concern in the state, the Dunleavy company, at Allenhurst, hold leases and are operating in the timber on this tract.

EARTHQUAKE DEAD

MOURNED BY TOKIO

Tokio, September 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Tokio's two million residents yesterday on the anniversary of the great earthquake, mourned the victims of the disaster, which had taken down an air of sorrow and uneasiness pervaded the city; mourning flags were displayed and wreaths, the Buddhist emblem of mourning, were to be seen everywhere.

At two minutes before noon the wailing of hundreds of whistles and the tolling of bells and gongs sounded. Throughout the city trolley cars halted and all activity ceased, while citizens spent a silent minute in prayer.

According to the mayor's proclamation, the minute of silence was not only in mourning of Tokyo's dead but in token of thanksgiving for the aid given the suffering city a year ago from abroad.

Large Increase Is Shown In New Securities Issued

BY R. L. BARNUM.
New York, September 2.—New security issues by corporations for the month just closed aggregated $212-

000,000 over the same month of last year. The striking feature of this statement, which covers the eight months as well as August, is the gain in new railway financing. For August the railroads issued $13,000,000, more than half of the total, largely refund-

For the eight months, the total for corporation financing is $2,048,368,000, which is $459,987,000 below the total for the same period last year. The decrease shown by industrial companies $713,674,000, partly offset by a gain of $253,087,000 for the railroads.

There are two reasons for the falling off in new industrial financing. One is the lack of new issues in the trade of the last few months and the other that the industrial companies debtedness of all kinds and are now, as a whole, in the best financial shape in the history of the country.

In the statement just put out by the Van Swearingens, the first covering their railway merger plans, there are two points of interest to investors of the securities of the various roads in the country. One is the exchange of the new Nickel Plate shares for the outstanding shares of the interested roads. The terms are the same as those already announced. The other point is the consolidated account of the roads for the six months showing 66 per cent earned for the new preferred stock and at the rate of $15.47 year. For the eight months the figures are $181,810,000, a decrease compared with the same period of 1923 of $5,894,000. On the other hand, Montgomery Ward reports August sales of $10,332,000, a gain over last year of 22.6 per cent with the eight months showing $94,711,000, an increase of 17.8 per cent.

As a result of the heavy September requirements the market for railroad bonds each month is 2 per cent, the rate since early July, advanced around noon to 2 1/2. As pointed out last week, however, the best bankers here do not expect any permanent stiffening of money rates.

JUDGE CAVERLY ASKS SPECIAL TRANSCRIPT

Chicago, September 2.—Judge John R. Caverly today requested and received special transcript of the coroner's report and the testimony of Dr. Joseph Springer in the Franks murder case. What use he intended to make of the transcript he would not say, although it was recalled that State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe had interfered, at the hearing, that the murdered boy's body might have been misused before it was hidden away. Rumors that spread about the city to the effect that Judge Caverly had met with harm at the hands of a crank were received with some apprehension at the county building. The story, telephoned Mrs. Caverly, caused her to hurry to a cemetery where the judge was attending the funeral of a priest. She found him safe and well. Judge Caverly today officially gave up his robes as chief justice of the criminal courts of Cook county. He will serve in the future on the divorce bench of the superior court.

Coffee Time Coming

Coffee time is all the time, but it is especially good in cool weather. Our long hot summer is about over and before you know it the "frost" will be on the pumpkin and the fodder in the shock. Housekeepers will do well to see that they have always on hand a fresh supply of EMPIRE COFFEE. Remember that it is roasted, ground and shipped daily. As a popular price coffee, consumers who have tried it for years say BLUE RIDGE has no equal.

Royal Headgear of Prince Startles Long Islanders

ALL-NIGHT PARTY, DOESN'T AFFECT POLO GAME

BY LYLE C. WILSON.
New York, September 2.—Stepping out from under his floppy sunbonnet, in a full eight-chukker game of polo on the Long Island estate of J. S. Phipps, the Prince of Wales has demonstrated that the royal health thrives on all-night parties.

All of Monday night, the heir to the British throne was abroad on Long Island somewhere other than at the home of James A. Burden, which is his vacation residence. He turned in shortly after 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, and shortly after 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, he was bawling a white wooden ball about the polo field on the Phipps estate, smacking the ball with healthy vigorous swings that held no hint of a happy, sleepless night before. During the ride between the Burden home and the polo field, H. R. H. chose to shelter his head under the outlandish sombrero of twisted straw that threw such a fright into the flappers and haberdashers' assistants who saw him introduce it to the American public at the Belmont Park race track. The prince comes of a family that has done strange things to clothes. His dad, for instance, likes to have his pants creased to starboard and port, instead of fore and aft, as is the ordinary procedure. Nothing like the royal headgear of the heir apparent ever had been seen in polite society in this hemisphere until the prince walked in wearing

Unknown Branded With Letters 'K. K.' Is Believed Dying

Wanigan, Ill., September 2.—A man believed to be Thomas Stolz, of Cudahy, Wis., found branded with the letters "K. K." and left bound gagged and blindfolded in a deserted cottage at Winthrop Harbor, Ill., near here, is near death in the Lake County general hospital here. He is suffering from lack of food and from thirst.

The man, who is about 35 years old, when roused to semi-consciousness, murmured: "Burn me to death if you want to, but don't torture me any more." The man is believed to have been in the cottage for days as indicated by the marks of rope on his wrists and ankles. He is believed to have been carried into the cottage from Sheridan road.

Investigation by Sheriff Edwin Ahlstrom disclosed a photograph of a woman and three children bearing the name "Mrs. Thomas Stolz, 341 Edgerton avenue, Cudahy, Wis." in his wallet. A letter addressed to Stolz and mailed in Chicago also was found. Disconnected statements of the victim indicated that he left home about a week ago to visit his father-in-law

COOLIDGE HOSTILE TO KU KLUX KLAN, SLEMP DECLARES

New York, September 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Coolidge is not a member of the Ku Klux Klan and is not in sympathy with the organization, his secretary, C. Beaumont Slemmons, stated in a letter written to Joseph Brannin, editor of a newspaper syndicate, and made public today by Mr. Brannin. The letter from Mr. Slemmons was in answer to one by Mr. Brannin. "Concerning the Ku Klux Klan," wrote the secretary, "the president has repeatedly stated that he is not a member of the order, and is not in sympathy with its aims and purposes."

Unknown Branded With Letters 'K. K.' Is Believed Dying

Wanigan, Ill., September 2.—A man believed to be Thomas Stolz, of Cudahy, Wis., found branded with the letters "K. K." and left bound gagged and blindfolded in a deserted cottage at Winthrop Harbor, Ill., near here, is near death in the Lake County general hospital here. He is suffering from lack of food and from thirst.

The man, who is about 35 years old, when roused to semi-consciousness, murmured: "Burn me to death if you want to, but don't torture me any more." The man is believed to have been in the cottage for days as indicated by the marks of rope on his wrists and ankles. He is believed to have been carried into the cottage from Sheridan road.

Investigation by Sheriff Edwin Ahlstrom disclosed a photograph of a woman and three children bearing the name "Mrs. Thomas Stolz, 341 Edgerton avenue, Cudahy, Wis." in his wallet. A letter addressed to Stolz and mailed in Chicago also was found. Disconnected statements of the victim indicated that he left home about a week ago to visit his father-in-law

New York, September 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Coolidge is not a member of the Ku Klux Klan and is not in sympathy with the organization, his secretary, C. Beaumont Slemmons, stated in a letter written to Joseph Brannin, editor of a newspaper syndicate, and made public today by Mr. Brannin. The letter from Mr. Slemmons was in answer to one by Mr. Brannin. "Concerning the Ku Klux Klan," wrote the secretary, "the president has repeatedly stated that he is not a member of the order, and is not in sympathy with its aims and purposes."

LODGE NOTICES

Practically every Atlanta lodge has abandoned the use of letter notices of meetings, now using this column of the Constitution for all such notices. Every lodge member in Atlanta looks to this column for all calls and any meeting notice published in the morning has time to reach every member before night. It is the surest and the cheapest way!
